PRESIDENT ASKS CONGRESS TO AUTHORIZE FORCE

Navy Warns American Merchant Ships to Leave Vera Cruz

Gen. Wood to Command the Army If Troops Are Used

MILITIA ORDERED ADMITTED TO THE COUNTRY'S SERVICE

Senate Passes Bill Already Sanctioned by the House, as First Act in Backing Up the President's Demands on Huerta—Many Americans Quit Mexican Capital, but Charge O'Shaughnessy Remains.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Senate passed the volunteer army bill for taking into the regular service militia regiments in time of war. The bill already has passed the House.

This was the first congressional act in backing up the President in his Mexican policy to force the Huerta Government into a complete compliance with all the American demands looking to the wiping out of the insult offered to the United States in the arrest of bluejackets at Tampico.

When no acceptable word came from Huerta and the President went before the joint session of Congress to outline his purposes, it was conceded that no further negotiations, parleys and counter propositions would be considered. The Washington Government now regards the diplomatic situation as closed.

That was the situation when, at 2:47 o'clock, President Wilson left the White House for the Capitol to deliver his message.

Secretary Bryan said he considered the attitude of Carranza and Villa, leaders of the Constitutionalists as very favorable, and did not expect any complicating developments from that phase of the situation.

The only semblance of a break in the silence between Washington and Mexico City came during the forenoon, when Charle Algara carried a communication to Secretary Bryan.

The Charge said that he considered it was somewhat different from the proposition which was refused last night, but Secretary Bryan declared it was the same as that forwarded by Charge O'Shaughnessy, and could not be accepted.

Note Causes No Change.

Charge Algara contended that his communication to Mr. Bryan contained new proposals, but the Secretary of State said it was only a matter of construction.

Officials who knew of Mr. Algara's message said it might be construed as a proposal to eliminate the written guarantee for a return salute by the United States, which Huerta demanded early yesterday, but State Department officials evidently did not accept it as of much import.

Mr. Bryan said that, so far as he knew, the Mexican Government had not given Mr. O'Shaughnessy his passports nor had the State Department instructed the Charge to leave Mexico.

According to official advices, Americans in Mexico already are beginning to leave. Officials understood that hundreds of Americans left Mexico City yesterday for Vera Cruz.

The State Department, through Mr. O'Shaughnessy and by direct messages from Mr. Bryan to American Consuls, throughout Mexico, has warned all Americans to leave.

Such protection as the United States has undertaken to extend to foreigners will not be afforded according to the present purpose. The diplomatic body in Washington has learned that the United States will continue to look after foreigners in Northern Mexico in the Constitutionalist zone, where foreign governments have no consular representative. In the Federal territory those governments will continue to look after their own subjects.

President at Capital Early.

The President returned to Washington from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., at 7:34 o'clock and went at once to the White House for a conference with Secretary Bryan. This preceded a special Cabinet meeting at 10:30 o'clock.

President Wilson had outlined his message last night while traveling and after going over a first draft with the Secretary of State submitted it to the Cabinet.

House and Senate leaders were early at the White House to learn the details of the President's plans so they might prepare the necessary resolutions putting Congress squarely behind the President and giving him full authority to act. While the President's plans were not officially disclosed, it was conceded in official circles that he would ask Congress to authorize what are known in international law as "measures short of war," which, while not being a declaration of war on the part of the United States, might be so construed by Huerta.

According to best informed officials, these would consist of the following:

1. Seizure of the ports of Tampico and Vera Cruz.
2. Seizure of the Mexican gunboats in those waters.
3. Seizure of the railroad from Vera Cruz to the Mexican capital to a point including a trestle 20 miles west of Vera Cruz, to prevent the route to the Mexican capital being blocked.
4. Probably a request for a special appropriation to carry out these measures. This latter point, however, was not definite early today.

Protection for Foreigners.

Senator Shively called a meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee after the Cabinet had met. Some Senators were prepared to urge that any resolution adopted by Congress specifically should provide for the protection of the lives and property of citizens of the United States and other foreigners in Mexico.

Senator Martin, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, expressed the belief that an emergency appropriation was not necessary at this time, but an

Bristow Joins Mann as a Wilson Critic

WASHINGTON, April 20.

REPUBLICAN LEADER MANN of the House has issued a statement saying he was not in sympathy with the movement toward Mexico, and today Senator Bristow commented adversely on the administration's attitude.

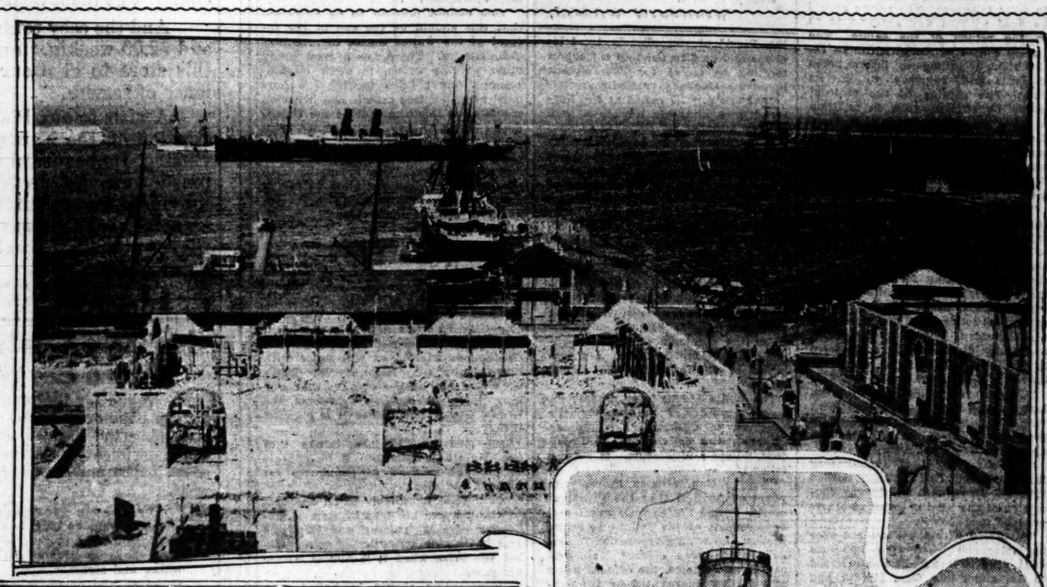

"When President Wilson comes to Congress today, asking for the use of the armed forces of the United States to compel Huerta to apologize, he will not receive my vote," announced Senator Bristow. "If he asks for authority to put down insurrections or establish a stable government in Mexico, a more serious question for consideration will arise. Making war upon the Mexican people merely because a man the President calls a bandit refuses to apologize is idiotic."

Republican Leader Mann heard about Huerta's refusal he said:

"There is no occasion for war at this time and I do not think there is any occasion for war or anything like war for an imagined slight. I think the course of the administration has been a very blundering one. We have not been informed as to what the facts have been in this matter.

"It would be disgraceful to bring about war without making any effort to prevent war. The administration seems to want to go to war over what it calls a punctilio."

WOOD TO COMMAND ARMY IF IT TAKES THE FIELD

Secretary Garrison Announces Chief of Staff Would Lead Forces—10,000 Troops Rush to Galveston.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Navy Department today chartered the Ward Liner Mexico, now in Mexican Gulf waters, for a refugee ship at Tampico. The War Department took option on several ships to be used as transports.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Secretary Garrison announced that Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, would command the American forces, should it finally become necessary to use them.

In the naval establishment everything was in preparedness for action. Few orders remained to be given. Secretary Daniels was early at his desk, scanning overnight reports of the movements of the big fleets steaming to both coasts of Mexico.

Rear Admiral Badger's ships will be at Tampico early Wednesday, according to latest calculations.

No orders were issued to Gen. Wood and their issuance depended on the outcome of the Cabinet meeting and the action of Congress.

Secretary Garrison said no orders had been issued for any movement of troops. Gen. Wood's four-year detail as chief of staff of the army will expire next Wednesday. He probably would leave immediately for Texas City, where the Second Army Division has been mobilized for the last 14 months.

Secretary Garrison conferred with Gen. Wood, Gen. Wotherspoon, Brigadier-General Crowder, Judge Advocate-General, and other officials of the department. It was understood they were preparing recommendations to Congress looking to the immediate passage of legislation providing for a large volunteer army.

The basis of the recommendation will be the Hay bill, already passed by the House, which will permit the mustering into the United States army of militia organizations with their officers, providing 75 per cent of the men are willing to do so.

Secretary Daniels said before the Cabinet meeting that no orders had been sent to Rear Admiral Badger's fleet, nor had any been issued to the battleships New York and Texas, which are almost ready for sea duty. Daniels received a message from Rear Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz, dated Sunday, saying, "No further developments at Vera Cruz or Tampico."

10,000 TROOPS GO TO GALVESTON

Men Routed Out at 3 A. M. at Houston—Will Be Put Aboard Transports.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 20.—The Second Division of the United States Army here on a practice march began a hurried movement back to Texas City and Galveston today on orders received from Washington at 3 o'clock this morning.

The Fifth Brigade of the division was rushed aboard troop trains, but the remainder of the big army unit, which brought nearly 10,000 men here, was ordered to make the 60-mile hike to the coast on foot. Plans were made for the Fifth Brigade to go aboard transports, although it was said no sailing orders have been received.

The plan was to have the Fifth, numbering nearly 5000 men, ready for sailing to Vera Cruz by Tuesday morning in case a troop movement should be ordered.

The Second Division, which has been grooming in Texas City and Galveston for a year, had marched to Houston to remain until the middle of the week. The soldiers were to have paraded in a local celebration, April 21, of the battle of San Jacinto, when Texas won independence from Mexico.

The Fifth Brigade would be the first to go aboard transports unless orders for embarkation should specify some change in program. By daylight, less than three hours after the orders to return had been flashed into a sleeping camp, the brigade was boarding trains for Galveston.

The brigade comprises the Fourth, Seventh, Nineteenth and Twenty-eighth Infantry and is in command of Col. Daniel Cornman.

Gen. Frederick Funston, commanding the division, returned to his headquarters at Texas City in advance of the army.

Army and Navy Board Considers Invasion Plans.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Joint Army and Navy Board, headed by Admiral Dewey, today held its first session in many months. It discussed plans for co-operation of the army and navy in case it becomes necessary to invade Mexico. Major-General Wood, chief of staff, and Major-General Wotherspoon, assistant chief, attended the meeting.

Men Wait in Line All Night to Enlist in the Navy.

NEW YORK, April 20.—More than 100 men were in line in front of the navy recruiting office in Twenty-third street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, when the office opened today. Many had been in line all night. The office force made the examinations in a hurry and by noon the waiting line had been disposed of. About 15 per cent of the applicants were accepted.

Vera Cruz Remains Quiet Despite Danger of Seizure.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 20.—This city continues very quiet, in spite of the international situation. Communication by launch with the American war vessels lying off the port was made difficult today by a stiff norther.

Gov. Dunne Says Illinois Could Get 50,000 Men in 30 Days.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 20.—In a statement issued today following a conference with Adjutant-General Shand, Gov. Dunne declared Illinois within 20 days could have 50,000 men mobilized in Springfield for service in Mexico, and that in another 20 days could have 100,000 men ready.

"The time has come," says the Governor, "when patience has ceased to be a virtue. We have been subjected to indignities which demand reparation. I hope war may be averted, but if war comes, Illinois will do its part in supporting the President in the vindication of the honor of the nation.

The cold wave which came from the Northwest and made Sunday an inopportune occasion for the display of spring gowns and bonnets was going South Monday. Forecaster Hayes said the danger of killing frosts in backyard gardens had been averted and that warmer weather was in sight. The area of high pressure which caused the sudden drop in temperature extended over the upper Mississippi Valley and the Lake regions.

While temperatures in St. Louis will be higher, the forecaster says, there may be brisk winds Monday night and Tuesday.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair weather with rising temperature tonight or Tuesday; increasing winds Tuesday.

For Missouri—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight and in east portion Tuesday.

FOUR AEROPLANES WILL BE SENT AT ONCE TO TAMPICO

Craft Are Aboard Fleet Cruiser Birmingham, Which Will Precede Warships.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 20.—Orders were received early today, directing the flotilla of 20 torpedo boat destroyers here to put to sea this afternoon, meeting Admiral Badger's fleet in the Gulf and accompanying it to Tampico. Officers said the destroyers, with two tenders, were ready to depart.

The battleship Mississippi today took aboard 600 marines. It was said she would sail for Tampico in accordance with previously announced orders early tomorrow. With her will go the scout cruiser Birmingham, carrying four navy hydroaeroplanes. It was announced that the Birmingham, the fastest cruiser of her class in the navy, would make an effort to reach Tampico before any hostilities break out, so that her aircraft may be used in directing any operations in the surrounding country.

First orders were for the torpedo flotilla to wait here until ordered to sea by Rear Admiral Badger. A heavy electrical storm, however, prevented the use of the wireless for communication with the flagship Arkansas.

The Mississippi and the Birmingham will be accompanied by the tender Dixie.

CARRANZA AND VILLA CONFER AT CHIHUAHUA

Rebels Believe They Will Not Oppose United States Invasion of Huerta Territory.

JUAREZ, April 20.—The conference between Gens. Carranza and Villa, considered of great moment by rebels, began at Chihuahua today, according to an official report received here.

It is understood among rebel officials that they will take no part in opposing the United States over the Tampico incident unless rebel territory is invaded.

HOUSE AND SENATE HEAR PRESIDENT'S REPORT OF SITUATION

Wilson Tells of Long Series of Affronts to Representatives of the United States.

"NO THOUGHT OF AGGRESSION OR SELF AGGRANDIZEMENT"

Executive Declares That the Huerta Government Is Without Right or Justification and Only Him and Those Who Adhere to Him Are to Be Opposed by the United States

VERA CRUZ, April 20.—Commander Charles F. Hughes, Chief of Staff of the United States Atlantic fleet, today called on Gen. Gustavo Maas, commander of the Federal troops at Vera Cruz, and on the commander of the port, and instructed them to order all American merchant vessels out of the harbor.

Commander Hughes then went on board the Spanish and the British warships anchored off this port and informed their commanders of his action.

William W. Canda, the American Consul here, is making arrangements to have the foreigners in the city taken on board the merchant vessels, should necessity arise.

All American and other foreign women have been asked by Consul Canada to take refuge on vessels now in the harbor, preferably on board the Mexico of the Ward Line, and the Esperanza, which has been charted by the United States Navy.

NAVY SAYS "AMERICAN" MERCHANT SHIPS ARE ORDERED OUT.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Navy Department gave out this statement: "American merchant vessels have been ordered out of Vera Cruz Harbor in accordance with the President's instructions to consular officers to warn Americans to leave Mexico for their own safety."

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Wilson today answered Huerta's defiance by asking Congress, assembled in joint session, for approval to "use the armed forces of the United States in such ways and to such extent as may be necessary to obtain from General Huerta and his adherents the fullest recognition of the rights and dignity of the United States."

The President did not ask for any appropriation of money at this time, nor for authority to call out the national guard.

"There can be no thought of aggression or of selfish aggrandizement," declared the President to the sober-faced throng of senators and representatives, which packed the hall of the House.

"This Government can, I earnestly hope, in no circumstances, be forced into war with the people of Mexico. If armed conflict should unhappily come as the result of his (Huerta's) attitude of personal resentment towards the Government, we should be fighting only Gen. Huerta and those who adhere to him and give him support and our object would be only to restore to the people of the distracted republic the opportunity to set again their own laws and their own Government.

"There can, in what we do, be no thought of aggression or of selfish aggrandizement. We seek to maintain the dignity and authority of the United States only because we wish always to keep our great influence unimpaired for the uses of liberty, both in the United States and wherever else it may be employed for the benefit of mankind.

The President finished reading his address at 3:12 p. m. and left the chamber amid a roar of applause and cheers.

The President laid the situation before Congress in an address to the members of both bodies in joint session in these words:

"Gentlemen of the Congress:

"It is my duty to call your attention to a situation which has arisen in our dealings with Gen. Victoriano Huerta at Mexico City, which calls for action and to ask your advice and co-operation in acting upon it.

"On the ninth of April a paymaster of the U. S. S. Dolphin landed at the Iturbide Bridge landing at Tampico, with a whale boat and boat's crew to take off certain supplies needed by his ship and while engaged in loading the boat, was arrested by an officer and squad of men of the army of Gen. Huerta. Neither the paymaster nor anyone of the boat's crew was armed. Two of the men were in the boat when the arrest took place and were obliged to leave it and submit to be taken into custody notwithstanding the fact that the boat carried, both at her bow and at her stern the flag of the United States.

The officer who made the arrest was proceeding up one of the streets of the town with his prisoners when met by an officer of higher authority, who ordered him to return to the landing and await orders and within an hour and a half from the time of the arrest, orders were received from the commander of the Huertista forces at Tampico for the release of the paymaster and his men. The release was followed by apologies from the commander and later by an expression of regret by Gen. Huerta himself. Gen. Huerta urged that martial law obtained at the time at Tampico; that orders had been issued that no one should be allowed to land at the Iturbide Bridge and that our sailors had no right to land there.

"Our naval commanders at the port had not been notified of any such prohibition and, even if they had been, the only justifiable course open to the local authorities would have been to request the Paymaster and his crew to withdraw and to lodge a protest with the commanding officer of the fleet. Admiral Mayo regarded the arrest as so serious an affront that he was not satisfied with the apologies offered, but demanded that the flag of the United States be saluted with special ceremony by the military commander of the port.

Declares Deliberate Affronts Have Been Offered.

"The incident cannot be regarded as a trivial one, especially as two of the men arrested were taken from the boat itself—that is to say from the territory of the United States, but had it stood by itself, it might have been attributed to the ignorance or arrogance of assingle officer. Unfortunately it was not an isolated case. A series of incidents have recently occurred which cannot but create the impression that the representatives of Gen. Huerta were willing to go out of their way to show disregard for the dignity and rights of this Government and felt perfectly safe in doing what they pleased, making free to show in many ways their irritation and contempt.

"A few days after the incident at Tampico an orderly from the U. S. S. Minnesota was arrested at Vera Cruz while ashore in uniform to obtain the ship's mail and was for a time thrown into jail. An official despatch from this Government to its embassy at Mexico City was withheld by the authorities of the telegraphic service until peremptorily demanded by our Charge d'Affaires in person. So far, as I can learn, such wrongs and annoyances have been suffered only to occur against representatives of the United States. I have heard of no complaints from other governments of similar treatment.

"Subsequent explanations and formal apologies did not and could not alter the popular impression, which it is possible had been the object of the Huertista authorities to create, that the Government of the United States was being singled out and might be singled out with impunity for slights and affronts in retalliation for its refusal to recognize the pretensions of Gen. Huerta to be regarded as the constitutional provisional President of the republic of Mexico.

"The manifest danger of such a situation was that such offenses might grow from bad to worse until something happened of so gross and intolerable a sort as to lead directly and inevitably to armed conflict. It was necessary that the apologies of Gen. Huerta and his representatives should go much further, that they should be such as to attract the attention of the whole population to their significance and such as to impress upon Gen. Huerta himself the necessity of seeing to it that no further occasion for explanations and professed regrets should arise. I, therefore, felt it my duty to sustain Admiral Mayo in the whole of his demand and to insist that the flag of the United States should be saluted in such a way as to indicate a new spirit and attitude on the part of the Hueristas.

President Outlines His Proposed Course.

"Such a salute Gen. Huerta has refused, and I have come to ask your approval and support in the course I now purpose to pursue.

"This Government can, I earnestly hope, in no circumstances be forced into war with the people of Mexico. Mexico is torn by civil strife. If we are to accept the tests of its own Constitution, it has no government. Gen. Huerta has set his power up in the City of Mexico, such as it is, without right and by methods for which there can be no justification.

"Only part of the country is under his control. If armed conflict unhappily come as a result of his attitude of personal resentment towards this Government, we should be fighting only Gen. Huerta and those who adhere to hib and give him their support, and our object would be only to restore to the people of the distracted republic the opportunity to set up again their own laws and their own government.

"But I earnestly hope that war is not now in question. I believe that I speak for the American people when I say that we do not desire to control in any degree the affairs of our sister republic. Our feeling for the people of Mexico is one of deep and genuine friendship, and everything that we have so far done or refrained from doing has proceeded from our desire to help them, not to hinder r embarass them.

"We would not wish even to exercise the good offices of friendship without their welcome and consent. The people of Mexico are entitled to settle their own domestic affairs in their own way and we sincerely desire to respect their right.

"The present situation need have none of the grave complications of interefereence if we deal with it promptly, firmly and wisely.

"No doubt I could do what is necessary in the circumstances to enforce respect for government without recourse to the Congress and yet not exceed my constitutional powers as President; but I do not wish to act in a matter possibly of so great a consequence except in close conference and co-operation with both the Senate and House.

"I therefore come to ask your approval that I should use the armed forces of the United States in such ways and to such an extent as may be necessary to obtain from Gen. Huerta and his adherents the fullest recognition of the rights and dignity of the United States even amidst the distressing conditions now unhappily obtaining in Mexeo.

"There can, in what we do, be no thought of aggression or of selfish aggrandisement. We seek to maihtain the dignity and authority of the United States only because we wish always to keep our great influence unimpaired for the uses of liberty, both in the United States and wherever else it may be employed for the benefit of mankind."

appropriation of $50,000,000, the sum appropriated at the beginning of the Spanish-American War, would be made if asked by the President.

A bill to appropriate $50,000,000 to be expended by the President was introduced by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, to which the bill was referred.

Speaker Clark and Chairman Flood of the Foreign Affairs Committee conferred with Democratic Leader Underwood and arranged that as soon as the President will have read his message the Foreign Affairs Committee shall meet and report immediately a resolution.

Mr. Underwood, after telephoning to the White House, said:

"Congress will do whatever the President asks, which probably will be a blockade of the Mexican ports and steps to protect American lives and property."

The House, upon assembling, immediately and unanimously passed a concurrent resolution for the joint session with the Senate at 3 p. m.

The Senate, without debate, adopted the House resolution for a 3 o'clock joint session.

President Strongly Supported.

Senators and Representatives almost to a man declared their intention of supporting the President in any policy he might recommend, and it was a foregone conclusion that a joint resolution giving the authorization to use force desired by the administration would be enacted before the day closed. Party lines were forgotten in patriotic enthusiasm.

Active preparations went forward at the War and Navy departments during the day. Secretaries Garrison and Daniels, who had been in conference until long after midnight, were at their desks early conferring with their assistants and high officials of the army and navy, and dispatching orders completing details of plans for operations that had been in the making for months. Word had come from Rear Admiral Badger, Commander in Chief of the Atlantic fleet, that he expected to reach Tampico Wednesday with the four battleships he is taking to join the vessels already at anchor there in operations along the coast.

What part is to be played by the army, which already has thousands of men strung along the Mexican border, has not been indicated. It will depend largely upon the attitude of the Constitutionalists, who control the northern part of Mexico. Relations between Carranza and Villa, the Constitutionalist leaders, and the Washington Government have been described by high officials here in the past few days as entirely satisfactory. Consequently if the Constitutionalists continue the campaign against the Huerta forces in the interior and make no attempt to interfere with the purpose of the United States, there may be little for the American army to do.

Washington was fairly aflame today with enthusiasm over the President's determination to act. Not since the Spanish-American War, 16 years ago, has the United States been so close to beginning armed hostilities against another nation.

Army and navy officers say, however, the operations in Mexico will not be war; that the Huerta regime, weakened almost to the breaking point by the assaults of the Constitutionalists and by the financial starvation resulting from the American policy of non-recognition, is in no position ot offer real resistance to a first-class Power. There will be no formal declaration of war, in any event, because the United States could not declare war against a Government the existence of which it has not recognised.

Information as to the attitude of foreign nations generally toward the change in American policy was awaited with intense interest. All the facts as they developed had been presented to the members of the dipdomatic corps, who in turn had reported to their respective Governments. Today the news of Huerta's refusal to salute the flag, with the intentions of the United States, was conveyed to the foreign representatives.

State Department estimates put the number of Americans in Mexico City at 1200; Vera Crus, about 800; Tampico, 600; Torreon, 150; Chihuahua, 150; Guadalajara, 300, and the rest scattered in Guayamas, Mazatlan, Acapulco and other small towns.

Official Statement of Final Correspondence with Mexico

WASHINGTON, April 20.

A RECORD of the correspondence between Secretary Bryan and Charge O'Shaughnessy from the time of the deliverance of President Wilson's ultimatum had expired was made public last night by Secretary Bryan in a statement issued from the White House. Secretary Bryan's statement follows:

"A little after 11 o'clock a brief dispatch came from Charge O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City saying that the President's demand of yesterday had been communicated to the Foreign Minister, and was being carried by him to Gen. Huerta. The Foreign Minister asked Charge O'Shaughnessy, whether in case Gen. Huerta acceded to the demand a protocol would be signed providing for a return of a salute. The following dispatch was sent to Charge O'Shaughnessy in substance:

" 'President Wilson is out of the city. Impossible to reach him before 8 a. m. tomorrow (Monday). Am certain that he would not consent to have you sign the protocol mentioned in your telegram. The salute should be fired without any agreements as to the return of the salute. The United States of America can be relied upon, according to international customs and courtesy to do its duty. The signing of the protocol would be objectionable, in addition to other reasons, because of the fact that it might be construed as recognition of the Huerta Government, whereas the President has no intention of recognizing that Government.'

"Early this morning a dispatch was received from Charge O'Shaughnessy saying that Gen. Huerta was willing to accede to the demand of Admiral Mayo, providing a protocol was signed and setting forth a copy of the proposed protocol. Charge O'Shaughnessy asked whether he was authorized to sign it. I communicated with President Wilson by telephone, and at his direction sent a telegram to Mr. O'Shaughnessy, of which following is a paraphrase:

"Copy of your telegram of 8 p. m. last night, was sent to the President with a copy of my reply to the effect that a protocol would be objectionable. The President replied:

" 'Your reply to O'Shaughnessy is exactly what I should have wished it to be. In no case should any concession of any kind in detail or otherwise be made.' "

"I talked with the President over the telephone when your telegram of 11 p. m. of last night was received to the effect that Gen. Huerta had acceded to the demand but only on condition that you sign a protocol or agreement. He insists that the salute shall not be fired as a matter of contract or with any stipulation that it be returned by us. It must be fired in accordance with international custom as an apology for the insult offered. Gen. Huerta must trust that the United States will live up to the requirements of international courtesy in returning his salute when it shall have been fired.

"The proposed protocol is especially objectionable, for it is so phrased that Gen. Huerta might construe it as recognizing his government, whereas the President has informed Gen. Huerta and the foreign Governments that Gen. Huerta's Government will not be recognized.

"Gen. Huerta's acceptance of the demand of Admiral Mayo must be unconditional. The details can be arranged directly with Admiral Mayo after Gen. Huerta announces that he will comply with that demand. Make it clear to Gen. Huerta that further negotiations are unnecessary. It is expected he will accept at once in order that the incident shall be closed.'

At 9 o'clock a telegram was received from Charge O'Shaughnessy—but it was inconclusive and stated he would call at the Foreign Office at 6 o'clock for a final answer.

"At 10 o'clock a telegram of which the following is the substance was received from Charge O'Shaughnessy containing Gen. Huerta's final refusal. This was communicated to the President immediately by telephone and he directed that a Cabinet meeting be called for 10:30 o'clock tomorrow (Monday) morning.

" 'At 5:50 p. m. I called at the Foreign Office and was handed a note by the Minister of Foreign Affairs. The note states in substance that the Government of Mexico is not disposed to accede to the unconditional demand of the Government of the United States. It further states that the Mexican Government is disposed to act according to the terms of the protocol which I have transmitted to you.

" 'I informed him that so far as this embassy is concerned the matter is closed and that I should immediately inform my Government that Gen. Huerta had definitely refused the demands of the Government of the United States. A translation of the note will be cabled later.' "

The White House later made public a paraphrase of Secretary Bryan's telegram to Charge O'Shaughnessy directing the deliverance of President Wilson's ultimatum. It was as follows:

"Say to Gen. Huerta in reply to yours of April 17 that the President of the United States feels great disappointment at his failure to make prompt and willing reparation for insult which was offered American sailors at Tampico, the offense being still further aggravated by the subsequent arrest of a mail carrier of the United States at Vera Cruz. In the belief that Gen. Huerta would on consideration accede to the most reasonable demands of Admiral Mayo, time has been given him. From your telegram it would seem that this Government's forbearance has been misinterpreted. Under all the circumstances the request for a simultaneous salute is as unjustifiable as is the arrest of American sailors and this makes it impossible for this Government to consider further delay.

"You are instructed to inform Gen. Huerta that unless he announces his intention to comply with Admiral Mayo's demand by 6 o'clock p. m. Sunday, April 19, the President will lay the matter before Congress on Monday with a view of taking such action to enforce the respect due our nation's flag as may be necessary. Gen. Huerta can arrange the details of the salute with Admiral Mayo if he reconsiders the position taken by him. Should he adhere to the position he has taken, you will make the contents of this telegram known to the representatives of foreign governments and send a paraphrase of the telegram to all consulates of America stationed in Mexico so that it may be communicated to American citizens who should at the same time be reminded of the President's advice to withdraw from Mexico until order is restored.

"You are instructed to inform us as to Gen. Huerta's attitude and answer promptly as possible."

President's Last Word to Dictator Huerta

WASHINGTON, April 20.

The exact words of the message which President Wilson sent to Secretary Bryan from White Sulphur Springs, which ended all hope on the part of Huerta for a modification of this government's ultimatum were these.

"Tell O'Shaughnessy our terms are unconditional in every detail."

WOODROW WILSON.

PLEA FOR FRANK'S LIFE TO BE MADE WEDNESDAY

Court to Hear Arguments on Motions to Annul Verdict and for New Trial.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 20.—Arguments on two motions seek to prevent the execution of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, are to be heard in Superior Court, Wednesday.

One of the motions asks annullment of the verdict on the ground that both the defendant and his counsel were absent from the courtroom when the verdict was returned. Frank's absence was suggested by Judge Roan at the trial. The other motion asks a new trial on the claim of newly discovered evidence.

PORFIRIO DIAZ REFUSES TO COMMENT ON MEXICO

PARIS, April 20.—Porfirio Diaz, former President of Mexico, telegraphed the Post-Dispatch correspondent here from the Hotel Victoria, Monte Carlo, today, replying to a query for his opinion on the situation between Mexico and the United States.

"I regret that, under present circumstances, my political opinions must be reserved for myself alone."

Diaz evidently expects permanent residence in Paris, for he has taken a $3000-a-year apartment in the fashionable Avenue Bois du Bologne. His dispute with contractors over repairs has gone to an arbitration court.

U. S. INTERVENTION NOW IS INEVITABLE, SAYS LONDON PRESS

Mexican Situation Overshadows Everything Else; American Action Generally Approved.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, April 20.—Mexico overshadowed all other matters in public interest here today. Throughout the British Isles, local and imperial politics, although of great importance, had to give way to what has been considered for a long time, the inevitable intervention by the United States to restore order in Mexico.

The Westminster Gazette, a leading Government organ, in expressing the view that nothing now can avert war, "or if not war, what the late William E. Gladstone would have called military operations," says:

"One cannot pretend to be surprised that this should be the end of the refusal of the United States to recognize Gen. Huerta. There are a good many other nations which, in other circumstances, might have tackled the hornets' nest; but this case is one in which the Monroe Doctrine saddles the United States with heavy obligations from which there is no escape."

The Pall Mall Gazette, an opposition newspaper, says. "Our sympathy with the Americans does not blind us to the perils of the course to which they seem about to commit themselves."

The Globe says: "Upon the United States will be laid the extremely difficult duty of protecting both its own citizens and foreigners, exposed to Mexican barbarity. In all probability and eventual reorganization of the whole country of Mexico will be necessary. Undoubtedly Gen. Huerta's action is a counsel of desperation, adopted in the hope that all factions in Mexico will unite with him to repel the gringo attack. Many observers are of the opinion that this may prove correct. In that case the United States has before it a gigantic task."

The Evening Standard thinks that Gen Huerta is mistaken if he expects to produce a wave of popularity for himself. It says:

"Gen. Villa is unlikely to let the dust be thrown into his eyes by such a maneuver. He is winning and knows it and he has no intention of relinquishing the prize when it is almost within his grasp.

"Intervention should be hailed with satisfaction by Europeans. Great Britain has $300,000,000 invested in Mexico and cannot afford to lose that sum. The outcome will be that Mexico will be policed by a strong national army under American supervision."

France Merely Calmly Observing Situation in Mexico.

PARIS, April 20.—The attitude of the French Government, in connection with President Wilson's policy towards Mexing to the view expressed at the Foreign ing to the view expressed at the Foreign Office today. A disposition exists here to remain detached from events in Mexico, unless incidents should arise directly concerning France.

The Bourse, however, was depressed not only as regards Mexican but most other securities, apparently because any international disturbance causes apprehension and doubt among French investors.

NO U. S.-MEXICO WAR, DECLARES PROPHETESS

Berlin Woman Says Bryan Won't Hold Office Long, "Next President a Catholic."

BERLIN, April 20.—Interesting to those who believe in occult revelations are the prophecies of future events in the United States by Frau Nelly von Heyman of Bremen, the "Mme. Thebea of Germany." Among the prophecies just issued by Frau von Heyman for this year are:

"There will be no military intervention in Mexico by the United States—not this time. Americans will be for peace and think long and deeply before declaring war. The disorders in Mexico may continue another three months and will then cease.

"President Wilson will be much honored, yet 'und dann wird er rutschen' (and then he will slide). Secretary of of State Bryan will not remain in office much longer. In any event he will go before the end of President Wilson's term. Col. Roosevelt will not be President of the United States again. The next President of the United States will be a Catholic. He will be a Democrat.

"It will not soon come to war between America and Japan, but there will be much controversy and a serious disagreement long drawn out. Japan eventually will give way."

CLARK SURE CONGRESS WILL BACK UP PRESIDENT

"And Entire Country Will Stand Behind the President as Well as Congress."

NEW YORK, April 20.—While waiting for his train to return to Washington early today, Speaker Champ Clark, who delivered a church address here last night, was informed of the latest turn in the Mexican affair. The Speaker expressed hope that a peaceful solution of the question could be found.

"But," he declared, with emphasis, "Congress will back up the President. There will be no division between the President and Congress on that question. And the whole country will stand behind the President as well as Congress."

DICTATOR HELD OUT FOR SIMULTANEOUS SALUTE BY WRITTEN AGREEMENT

ISSUE WITH HUERTA, NOT MEXICAN PEOPLE, PRESIDENT DECLARES

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Wilson told the Washington correspondents just before the Cabinet meeting not to get the impression that the United States was going to have war with Mexico. He pointed out that under no circumstances would the United States fight the Mexican people; that it was their friend.

Mr. Wilson said he was going to Congress to tell of a special situation and to ask approval of plans to meet a special situation. He declared the issue was only one between the United States and a man who calls himself the President of Mexico and whom the United States had never recognized as entitled to that right.

The President said the intention of the United States was to help the people of Mexico, and that he had gotten a feeling of uneasiness when he found the newspapers fired with enthusiasm for war.

Mr. Wilson declared he did not want war, but justice, and that he did not consider such acts of reprisal as are planned acts of war, but measures short of war, sustained by the Greytown precedent, for one.

President Gives Out Statement.

Later this portion of President Wilson's talk to the correspondents was authorized at the White House:

"I want to say to you, gentlemen, do not get the impression that there is about to be war between the United States and Mexico. That is not the outlook at present, at all. In the first place, in no conceivable circumstances will we fight the people of Mexico. We are their friends and want to help in every way we can, to recover their rights and their government and their laws, and for the present I am going to Congress to present a special situation and seek their approval to meet that special situation.

"It is only an issue between this Government and a person calling himself the Provisional President of Mexico, whose right to call himself such we never have recognized in any way.

"So that I had a feeling of uneasiness as I read the papers this morning as if the country were getting on fire with war enthusiasm. I have no enthusiasm for war; I have an enthusiasm for justice and for the dignity of the United States, but not for war. And this need not eventuate into war if we handle it with firmness and promptness."

The President said in reality he was going to Congress on an occasion for which, strictly speaking, it was not necessary to obtain authority, but that it was his desire to have the full co-operation, thought and purpose of Congress. Mr. Wilson said that the executive could take steps which would fall short of a declaration of war.

The President emphasized that he had not lost his patience with Mexico, for to lose patience seemed to him an act of weakness on the part of a person strong enough to do as he ought, but that he felt such incidents as recent ones might go from bad to worse and eventually bring about a state of conflict.

Acts in Interest of Peace.

The President added that he thought it was wise in the interests of peace to cut off those repeated offenses at an early stage.

Events of the day, such as a final acceptance from Huerta, the President indicated, might alter his plans, and he added that even the course of action of the navy was dependent on circumstances from hour to hour.

When the President was asked the direct question if the purpose of his action was to secure the elimination of Huerta, he replied that the Tampico incident did not involve that question. He replied that the United States merely wanted full recognition of its dignity, and such a recognition as would constitute a guarantee that such incidents as the one at Tampico would not occur again.

The President announced that he had his message ready; that it was about a thousand words long and would take about ten minutes to read.

He declined to give out copies of it in advance, as has been the custom, saying he wanted to keep it under advisement to the last minute. He arranged, however, to have copies given out at the Capitol simultaneously with his delivery.

Efforts to Persuade Huerta.

The use of the word "simultaneous" caused a ripple of laughter among the President's callers. Someone asked if the word had not become objectionable, but Mr. Wilson laughingly replied that when it all came from one side, there was no objection.

The reference was to Huerta's proposal for a simultaneous salute and the President indicated by his answer that 21 guns fired simultaneously in salute to the flag by Huerta would be the only kind of simultaneous salute that would be accepted.

The President revealed that foreign diplomats at Mexico City had been using their good offices with Huerta in an effort to induce him to accede, but that no representations had been made to this Government in any way by other nations.

New Hampshire Firing Broadside; Rear Admirals in Mexican Waters

A BROADSIDE FROM THE U.S.S. DREADNAUGHT NEW HAMPSHIRE

Rear Admiral H.T. MAYO — Rear Admiral C.J. BADGER

HUERTA'S VERSION OF REFUSAL TO SALUTE

MEXICO CITY, April 20.—The Mexican capital awaited with intense interest today the next word from Washington in reply to the refusal of Provisional President Huerta to comply with the demand of the United States.

All the morning papers published a lengthy statement by the Mexican Foreign Minister, Senor Portillay Rojas, outlining the reasons for the position Gen. Huerta had taken—namely, that the American flag was not frying on the boat when the bluejackets were arrested on shore at Tampico; therefore the flag had not been insulted and that compliance with the demand for an unconditional salute would be humiliating to Mexico.

This statement was followed by a statement from President Huerta, advising Mexicans to refrain from demonstrations which might embarrass possible future negotiations.

Many American residents have made preparations to stay in the Mexican capital, whatever be the outcome of the present crisis, unless they are ordered to leave by the Mexican authorities. They express belief that they will not be harmed in any eventuality. Others are going to Vera Cruz or are making preparations to leave if necessary.

The formal reply by the Mexican Government to the demands of the United States was handed to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge d'Affaires, at exactly 6 o'clock last evening at the Foreign Office. The Charge, however, had been made aware previously of the nature of the document.

O'Shaughnessy had seen Senor Portilla y Rojas late in the afternoon in the suburbs of Coyacan, where he had gone to dine with some friends. Provisional President Huerta displayed comparative indifference to the crisis and passed several hours last evening listening to the military band playing in Chapultepec Park.

Several hundred American residents spent the evening at the American Club, where a dinner and entertainment were given.

News of the deadlock came as a complete surprise to the large majority of Mexicans, as the existence of a diplomatic controversy had been kept out of the newspapers. Everywhere today Mexicans eagerly read and earnestly discussed the statement from the Mexican Foreign Minister published in the morning newspapers.

They stood in groups on the streets or congregated in the cafes, but nowhere did they give any evidence of hostility toward Americans with whom they came into contact.

Newspapers Uphold Huerta.

The newspapers today restricted themselves to very brief comment on the statement given out by the Foreign Minister, devoting themselves chiefly to expressions of approval of the attitude taken by the Mexican Government.

El Imparcial declared that Gen. Huerta had given "high proof of his discretion and loyalty," and concluded, "a people, like a man, should prefer death to dishonor."

El Pais said: "The Tampico incidents as a reason for war are infamous and as a basis for the assertion of right are ridiculous." It adds: "In these solemn moments serenity is the only thing that can save us, but should the time come to show ourselves patriots it is indispensable to unite in facing death and sacrifice with the valor of justice."

Portillo y Rojas, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in announcing that it would be impossible to agree to the demand of the United States that the flag of that country be unconditionally saluted, gave out today the following statement:

"On the ninth of the present month, between 11 and noon, a boat without an American flag and with nine marines and one officer, landed at a point called the Beach of Uturbide, in Tampico, Col. Raymond Hinojosa, who has charge of defending that point, detained the marines and officers and conducted them to the presence of the General who had command of the fort, Ignacio Morelos Zaragoza.

"It should be remembered that at this time the port not only was under military control, but was withstanding an attack by rebels.

Gen. Zaragosa immediately and without even investigating the case, put the marines and the officer at liberty, placed Hinojosa in prison and sent an apology to Rear Admiral Mayo, commander of the American fleet.

Thought Incident Was Closed.

"We thought the incident was closed, but unfortunately this was not so because Mayo sent to him some time afterward an ultimatum in which he asked that a second apology be presented to him by the staff of the chief of the fort. Gen. Zaragoza; that the American flag be hoisted at a public place in Tampico and saluted by 21 guns and besides the severe punishment of Hinajosa, stipulating that all this be done within 24 hours.

"The term was later extended when diplomatic pour parlours were begun between the Sub-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, in Mexico, the Minister being absent at that date, and continued until now.

"The President of Mexico, when informed of the case, ordered an investigation of the facts and the punishment of the guilty officer if it were proved he was blameworthy. He also authorized the Minister of Foreign Affairs to express regret on account of the incident. When he became aware that the American Government supported the request of Rear Admiral Mayo relative to a salute of the American flag which had not been insulted, he proposed to show his good will toward the American people, though he did not think that such a request was just, proposing that the flags of the two nations be hoisted and saluted reciprocally and simultaneously.

"The American Government did not agree to this with that idea, but insisted upon Rear Admiral Mayo's request, giving assurance that, according to international practice, the salute would be returned by American cannon after the salute to the American flag.

"This was not accepted by President Huerta, who insisted upon his proposition.

"Then the American Government determined pourparlers be brought to an end by the final decision of President Huerta within a term which expired at 6 o'clock Sunday night, announcing that if by that time he had not agreed to the salute of the American flag, as requested, the afafirs would be presented to the American Congress for decision.

"The Mexican Government, believing that the salute in question was of no importance unless previously and formally agreed upon by both parties, proposed the signing of a protocol and the Minister of Foreign Affairs presented last night a draft of such protocol to the American Charge D'Affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy.

"O'Shaughnessy answered that he must consult his Government; that he would advise the Minister of the nature of this answer and Sunday afternoon he communicated to the Minister the fact that his Government did not accept the idea of a signature of any protocol whatever, but wanted an unconditional salute of the American flag.

"This the Mexican Government refused, feeling it had done all possible in view of the friendly understanding between the two governments and believing the acceptance of such an imposition would be equivalent to yielding by Mexico to humiliation. The Mexican Government is confident that the civilized world will find its conduct has been wise and temperate and that it has observed all the requirements of international law and that the refusal to yield further is inspired only by regard for its honor and dignity."

Denies Flag Was Insulted.

Before issuing his final statement, Foreign Minister Rojas gave out the following:

There have been two incidents at Tampico which have given rise to diplomatic negotiations. The first incident was the arrest of American marines on Thursday, April 9, during the attack by the rebels on the Port of Tampico. These marines in uniform landed from a launch of the Dolphin without a flag, under the pretext, as learned later, of obtaining gasoline.

Col. Hinjasa, charged with the defense of Tampico, arrested the marines. Gen. Zaragoza was informed of the arrest by the American consul and the commander of the Dolphin, and he ordered the marines released immediately and presented his excuses to the consul. Col. Hinjasa was arrested.

On the afternoon of the same day Admiral Mayo presented an ultimatum to Gen. Zaragoza, to apologize within 24 hours through his general staff, to punish Hinjasa severely and to raise the American flag with a salute of 21 guns.

On the following day, when the Federal Government learned of the occurrence, the Minister of Foreign Affairs began diplomatic negotiations with the American Charge d'Affaires at Washington, asking that Admiral Mayo withdraw the ultimatum because the incident ought to be closed with the explanations of Gen. Zaragoza and the arrest of Col. Hinojasa. The attention of the American Government was called to the fact that the American marines violated our military laws, disembarking without permission in uniform at a place subect to war operations and during a battle, for which Col. Hinojasa thought he had the right to arrest them.

The American barge accompanying the launch was flying the American flag.

President Huerta resolved to express his sorrow for the incident, and had already ordered competent authority to investigate and to punish Hinojasa severly if he was in the wrong. The American Government was not satisfied and confirmed Admiral Mayo's ultimatum, insisting on a salute to the flag on April 12. The American Charge d'Affaires was informed that Mexico could not comply with Admiral Mayo's demand, because international law did not require it, the American marines, having exposed themselves to arrest by violating our military laws. Compliance with this demand would carry courtesy to such an extreme as to humiliate Mexico.

Protocol Was Demanded.

Later the Foreign Minister held conferences with Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy regarding the proposal by the American Government to settle the incident with reciprocal salutes to both flags. The President accepted this on condition that the salutes would be simultaneous. The Government of Mexico, anxious to maintain harmony, accepted the American proposal on condition that a protocol should be signed setting forth the agreement.

Unfortunately, the American Government refused to sign such a protocol, insisting on an unconditional compliance with its demands.

This, naturally, Mexico refused and I have just so cabled our Charge d'Affaires at Washington.

The second incident was this: The Mexican Charge d'Affaires at Washington reported on April 11 that the American Government had instructed Admiral Mayo to prevent further fighting between the opposing forces at Tampico, the American Government afterwards explaining that it did not mean to prevent fighting, but to prevent damage to foreign property. The Foreign Office's answer to Washington was that under either construction of the terms of the instructions to Admiral Mayo they were equivalent to neutralizing the Port of Tampico without the consent of Mexico, whose sovereign right it is to neutralize or not any part of her territory.

Wherefore President Huesta refused to recognize the right of the American claim, himself reserving the right to repel by force of arms any rebel attacks on Tampico. The American Government was reminded that the rebels were able to damage foreign as well as Mexican property, because they received arms and other assistance from American territory.

The Government, hoping to reach an amicable settlement of this incident, has not heretofore published details of these diplomatic negotiations, but, failing to arrive at the desired results, deems that the time has arrived that the Mexican people should know the actual state of their Government's relations with the American Government and the efforts it has made to maintain peace and in the defense of its national dignity and sovereignty.

The Government hopes that the people will show their civilization and patriotism, avoiding an increase in the gravity of the situation by manifestations which might retard a diplomatic solution of the difficulties which it is still possible the United States will accept.

Bile Makes You Immune

You can defy sickness if you keep your stomach and bowels free and clear of accumulated waste matter—which can only be done by releasing the damned-up Bile, Nature's great cleanser and purifier.

Salts, mineral waters, oils and common laxatives won't do it. Calomel is dangerous and exhausting.

PoDoLax Releases the Bile

Popophyllin (common Mandrake or May-Apple Root)—the remedy of our grandparents—is harmless, prompt, positive and thorough. Its bitter taste and gripe have been entirely removed after years of scientific research. The new formula is called "PoDoLax."

PoDoLax is so pleasant in taste and action that even children love it. It is guaranteed to relieve and prevent the most obstinate cases of constipation, congested liver, biliousness, indigestion, dizziness, sick headache, flatulency, loss of appetite, and that "I-don't-know-what-ails-me" feeling.

Now that you know that Bile is Nature's purifier of the food in the intestines, use PoDoLax instead of the usual laxative or cathartic. Ask for PoDoLax and get PoDoLax.—ADV.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—ADV.

SKIN TROUBLES FROM SCROFULA

Among the many manifestations of scrofula are eruptions on the face and body. These are both annoying and disfiguring. How often the complexion would be perfect if they were not present!

Other manifestations are bunches, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, wasting of the muscles, and general debility.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine completely eradicates scrofula and builds up the whole system. Get it today.

Relief From Constipation

It's Me for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O. All druggists.

WAR WITH SPAIN DUE PRIMARILY TO CUBAN REVOLUTION

Island Was Devastated, American Interests Suffered, Conditions Were Intolerable.

MAINE WAS BLOWN UP

Congress' Resolution Recognizing Independence of Cuba Followed McKinley Message.

The Spanish-American War of 1898 was due primarily to the Cuban revolution. Cuba was devastated. American interests suffered, and conditions generally became almost intolerable. Our relations with Spain became greatly strained in consequence, and the blowing up of the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana on the evening of Feb. 15, 1898, made war inevitable.

On April 11 President McKinley sent a message to Congress, in which he described the conditions in Cuba, told of our strained diplomatic relations with Spain, declared the war in Cuba must be ended and asked Congress for authority to use the United States army and navy to obtain the formation of a Cuban government capable of discharging its international obligations and maintaining internal order.

Congress responded with a joint resolution declaring the people of Cuba free and independent, demanding the surrender of all Spanish authority over the island and directing as well as empowering the President to enforce the resolution with the army and navy.

Congress' Joint Resolution.

Following is the joint resolution of Congress recognizing the independence of Cuba, signed by President McKinley, April 20, 1898, and presented by American Minister Woodford at Madrid the same day to the Spanish Government:

"Whereas, The abhorrent conditions which have existed for more than three years in the Island of Cuba, so near to our own borders, have shocked the moral sense of the people of the United States, have been a disgrace to Christian civilization, culminating as they have in the destruction of a United States battleship, with 266 officers and crew, while on a friendly visit to the harbor of Havana, and cannot longer be endured, as has been set forth by the President of the United States in his message to Congress of April 11, 1898, upon which the action of Congress was invited; therefore, resolved:

"1. That the People of the Island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent.

"2. That it is the duty of the United States to demand and the Government of the United States does hereby demand that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

"3. That the President of the United States be, and he hereby is, directed and empowered, to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States and to call into actual service of the United States the militia of the several states to such an extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect.

"4. That the United States hereby disclaims any intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said Island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination when that is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people."

Ultimatum Was Cabled.

On the morning of April 20, soon after President McKinley had signed the joint resolution of Congress, Secretary of State Sherman cabled American Minister Woodford at Madrid a copy of the resolution and the following instructions, regarded as this country's ultimatum to Spain:

"Woodford, Minister, Madrid—You have been furnished with the text of a joint resolution voted by the Congress of the United States on the 19th inst.—approved today—in relation to the pacification of the island of Cuba. In obedience to that act, the President directs you to immediately communicate to the Government of Spain said resolution, with the formal demand of the Government of the United States that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the island of Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters. In taking this step, the United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination when that is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people, under such free and independent government as they may establish.

"If by the hour of noon, on Saturday next, the 23d day of April, instant, there be not communicated to this Government by that of Spain a full and satisfactory response to this demand and resolution, whereby the ends of peace in Cuba shall be assured, the President will proceed without further notice to use the power and authority enjoined and conferred upon him by the said joint resolution to such extent as may be necessary to carry the same into effect."

Passports Furnished.

At 11 o'clock that morning, soon after Secretary Sherman had cabled the ultimatum to Minister Woodford, he served notice of the purpose of this Government by delivering to the Spanish Minister (Polo) in Washington a copy of the instructions to Minister Woodford and the joint resolution of Congress. In the afternoon Minister Polo forwarded to the State Department a request for his passports, which were furnished him without delay.

At 9 o'clock next morning, April 21, the State Department received the following message from Minister Woodford:

"Sherman, Washington: Early this (Thursday) morning, immediately after ... receipt of your telegram and before ... Spanish Government, Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs notified me that diplomatic relations were broken between the two countries and that all official communication between their respective representatives had ceased. I accordingly asked for safe passports. Turn legation over to British Embassy and leave for Paris this afternoon. Have notified Consuls."

Spain's refusal to receive the communication of Minister Woodford was equivalent to a declaration of war.

FIRST REGIMENT COULD MOVE ON 24-HOUR NOTICE

Military Experts Say City Could Send as Many Men Now as in Spanish-American War.

St. Louis military men believe this city, in the event of a call for volunteers for a Mexican campaign, could send out as many men as went from St. Louis into the Spanish-American War, 16 years ago.

The city has now the same military organizations which it had at that time, namely the First Regiment, National Guard of Missouri, and Battery A. In the Spanish War, St. Louisans filled both the regiment and the battery to their capacity, and an additional volunteer infantry regiment was recruited here, of which two companies were accepted as a part of the Sixth Missouri. A volunteer regiment of engineers was formed here, and the local enlistment in the regular army was large, particularly as to negroes.

Col. N. G. Edwards, commander of the First Regiment, said Monday that 800 men, fully equipped and provisioned, could be sent out on 24 hours' notice. He said many of the old members of the regiment would also return and reenlist in case of a call for the services of the regiment, and that as soon as these men could be equipped, they could be sent to join the regular members.

Brigadier-General E. J. Spencer of the National Guard said the present strength of the guard, which comprises the six regiments and two batteries and a cavalry troop, was about 3200. The members of the National Guard are not required to go outside the United States for military service, but in the case of the Spanish War very few held back on that account.

Albert Bond Lambert, who last fall organized the volunteer reserve corps of aviators, for military and naval service, said there were 42 trained aviators in the corps, and that all would immediately respond to any call that might be made. Most of the men are exhibition flyers, and would cancel their show dates upon a call from the Government. Lambert, who is a practical aviator, counts himself a member of the corps, but says he would probably not be called on to do flying, but to render technical or tactical service.

Jefferson Barracks Recruits.

Jefferson Barracks, which was a regular army post at the time of the Spanish War, is now used wholly as a post for training recruits, who are sent from the St. Louis, Chicago and other recruiting stations. For this reason, the men now at the barracks would be among the last called on in case of war. They would probably be moved forward to posts nearer the frontier, and would get to the front the last of all the regular troops.

At the Army and Navy Club, 3621 Washington avenue, a "muster" ceremony was going on Sunday night when news was received of Huerta's refusal to salute the flag. A telegram, signed by Capt. T. R. Roemer, was sent to Congressman Igoe in Washington, stating that the Army and Navy Club offered a regiment of seasoned Spanish war veterans at call.

A reply from Representative Igoe was received stating that he had submitted the telegram to Secretary of War Garrison.

Mexican Crisis Fails to Cause Increase in Enlistments.

The war scare has not increased the enlistments at the local army, navy and marine recruiting stations in the last, according to the officers in charge. At both the army and navy stations about the usual average of applicants were received last week. Up until 10:30 a. m. Monday the marine station had not received a single applicant for the day.

At the navy recruiting station, Lieut. C. C. Krakow, officer in charge, reported that the applications received last week were below the average, only 28 men applying, while as a rule there are at least 40. Of the 28, only ... passed the tests, and of these only two were St. Louisans.

The officials at all stations reported that no orders had been sent from headquarters to increase the enlistments.

PHYSICIANS AGREE ON INTERNAL BATHS

The most enlightened physicians including many of the greatest specialists, are recommending and prescribing the use of the "J. B. L. Cascade," Nature's own Cure for Constipation.

It keeps the lower intestine sweet and clean and eliminates all poisons in the waste which it contains.

Otherwise these poisons are distributed throughout the body; this weakens the whole system, makes us dull and bilious, and even brings on serious complaints.

The "J. B. L. Cascade" clears the colon of all waste, and is shown by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 515 Olive, Seventh and Locust, Broadway and Washington, St. Louis, Mo.

DENVER PLANS TO RAISE VOLUNTEER COMPANIES

DENVER, Colo., April 20.—Great throngs crowded the streets in front of newspaper offices here last night, watching closely for news on the bulletin boards concerning the Mexican developments. When word came that the Mexican Government refused to give an unconditional salute to the American colors at Tampico, many in the streets cheered.

In front of one newspaper office the people sang "The Star Spangled Banner." A spirit of feverish patriotism was shown and military organizations met to consider the formation of volunteer companies in event of a conflict with the Huerta government.

NEW YORK PAPERS SEE ELIMINATION OF GEN. HUERTA

Declare Present Situation Will Bring About Speedy Downfall of Dictator.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Leading newspapers here today comment liberally on the tense situation in Mexico and uniformly back up the President in his determination to bring the Huerta Government to account for the arrest of bluejackets at Tampico and for other indignities thrust upon the United States Government.

The opinion is expressed that Gen. Huerta's stand will result in his speedy downfall as dictator of Mexico.

"We don't hold the Mexican people as a whole responsible for Huerta's insolent and dictatorial attitude," the Tribune says. "A large part of the Mexican people is in arms against him and another large part submits to his rule only as a choice of evils.

"Nothing would be less desirable at the present moment than an identification of Huerta's attitude and fortunes with the attitude and fortunes of the Mexican people."

"Gen. Victoriano Huerta has refused to yield to the entirely proper and wholly justified demands of President Wilson," says the Herald.

"It can only mean the end of Huertaism and Huertaism. Once military intervention in any form is begun, it cannot stop until Huerta is driven from power, until order is restored throughout Mexico, until a government representing the will of the Mexican people is installed at Mexico City. The die is cast. Once more the United States is called upon to take upon its shoulders the burden of putting in order the house of one of its sister republics upon this hemisphere. It is a burden the United States have not sought. It is a burden we would have been glad to escape could it have been escaped with honor. But civilization demands that the United States exercise primacy upon this hemisphere, and this primacy carries with it responsibility of upholding law and order in the Americas."

"This state of things seems to end all reasonable hope of a pacific issue," says the Sun. "It is true that in dealing with an irresponsible adventurer of the type of Huerta it is impossible to foretell what a moment may bring forth. It is by no means impossible that this trifler with momentous issues—as he daily shows himself—may at the very last moment retreat from his perilous position. An hour before the time arrives for President Wilson to lay the case before Congress he may telegraph to Washington a complete submission. With vulgar cunning he may figure that we must accept his amends, however tardy. But without doubt the hour of grace has gone by. Any further display of consideration would be mere weakness, and would be so interpreted by Huerta himself.

"When the President makes his appeal to Congress today for power to act there can be no doubt as to what the reply will be. He will have the support of all parties and a united people in upholding the dignity of the country and fulfilling its duty toward Mexico as the same may unfold itself with the march of events.

To this it need only be that neither in the eyes of our Government nor of the American people will any hostility be directed against Mexico as a nation. The only foeman we shall know are those who have been exploiting the unhappy country and its population for own selfish ends. In this spirit we shall approach reluctantly but serenely the order that may lie before us with clean hearts and unselfish purpose."

"It is expected that Congress will today formally authorize the President to call into action the army and navy of the United States and to proceed as circumstances warrant in the troublesome Mexican business," says the Times. * * * "But if Huerta should change his mind at the eleventh hour and give the required salute it may be that even this prelude to possibly hostile action will be avoided, while if the dictator should suddenly abdicate and leave the capital it is clear that there would be no circumstance remaining for immediate action on our part. * * *

"The American people are not anxious for war and yet there is no war. On the part of our Government it is sincerely to be hoped no false step will be taken. On the part of the people patriotic support of their chief magistrate in the hour of trial and gravest responsibility will not be lacking."

"DEAF AND DUMB" MAN TALKS IN COURT; FINED

Boy Testifies Beggar Taught Him in Fraud and They Worked at Station.

William Barry, accused of posing as a deaf and dumb person and begging in public places, heard everything that was said in the Municipal Police Court Monday and volubly denied the charge.

The policeman who arrested him at Union Station Sunday night testified he was handing out cards asking the reader to help him get an education in bookkeeping. Barry denied it.

Elden Brewer, 16 years old, of Sullivan, Mo., who was with Barry at Union Station, testified that Barry had persuaded him to join him in the begging enterprise and had taught him how to pose as a deaf and dumb person. They worked Union Station Sunday, he said, and gathered $4.50. Barry was fined $100. The Brewer boy will be sent to his relatives by Chief Probation Officer Fullerton.

About Cold Storage for Furs

Safety is of paramount importance when one is considering the care of Furs for the Summer.

The careful woman, realizing the necessity of taking every precaution to preserve the skins, places her furs in Cold Storage.

To convince you of this store's ability to handle your furs to your satisfaction, you are invited to inspect the immense Frigidor, located on the Seventh Floor.

Before placing your furs, portieres, rugs or other valuable garments in these cold storage vaults, they are thoroughly dusted, aired and inspected, and then stored separately.

Charges for this services are nominal.

You are also invited to stop off at the regular Fur Section on the Third Floor and consult with a representative for any repairs or remodeling of your Furs.

This work is in charge of a most efficient corps of fur experts—charges for which, at this season of the year, are extremely low, in fact Summer rates obtain now.

In connection with this Storage we will further give you an estimate on dry cleaning your portieres, rugs or any garment which you may desire to have dry cleaned, and include this charge in storage rates.

Y. M. C. A. ASKS GAS USERS TO DONATE THEIR CLAIMS

Building Fund Expects to Get $50,000 Following Recent Court Ruling.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 20.—Gas consumers of Kansas City, Kan., entitled to rebates for excess charges paid to the gas company there, will be asked to assign their claims to a Y. M. C. A. building fund in a campaign started by the club women of the city, today. It is expected $50,000 will be added to the fund by this method.

The amounts in rebates vary from a few cents due to small residence consumers to more than $100 due to large industries. A court decision recently declared 2 cents a 1000 feet was being paid in excess of the rate legally chargeable for gas.

RESINOL WILL HEAL YOUR SKIN

Stops Itching Instantly and Clears Away Unsightly Eruptions.

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores and the suffering stops right there! Healing begins that very minute, and your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on useless, tedious treatments.

Resinol is also an excellent household remedy for pimples, dandruff, sores, burns, bruises, boils, and for a score of other uses where a soothing, healing application is needed. It contains nothing of a harsh or injurious nature and can be used with confidence on the tenderest or most irritated surface. Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c). For trial free, write to Dept. 5-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Ask for Resinol by name and thus avoid "substitutes."

MAN WHO SET FIRES ACCUSED IN 2 INFORMATIONS

Circuit Attorney Proceeds Against Bernard, Who Told of Arson Mania.

Two informations charging George W. Bernard of 3526 Indiana avenue with arson were issued by the Circuit Attorney's office Monday.

Bernard Saturday confessed to the police that he set fire to the lumber yards of the James L. Addis Wrecking Co. at 3315 Salena street and the Independent Lumber Co. at 3628 South Broadway, Friday night. He said he had been drinking beer, wine and kimmel and that when intoxicated he had an untrollable desire to start fires. This inclination, he said, first came to him about two years ago, after he had fallen from flying rings in a gymnasium while in the United States army.

The warrants issued Monday charge Bernard with third degree arson in connection with the Addis Wrecking Co. fire and fourth degree arson as to the Independent Lumber Co. fire.

The reason for the different degrees of arson charged in the warrants was that in the case of the Wrecking Co. a building was destroyed. This constitutes third degree arson and the penalty ranges from a year in jail to life imprisonment.

In the case of the Independent Lumber Co. no building was ignited and only lumber was destroyed. This is fourth degree arson with a penalty ranging from six months in jail to five years in the penitentiary.

16-YEAR OLD PIANISTE TO GIVE A RECITAL

MARGARET McHALE.

Margaret McHale, 16-year-old pianiste, will give a recital at Musical Art Hall, Olive street and Boyle avenue, at 8:15 p. m. Thursday. She will be assisted by Nathan Sacks, her instructor, and by Saul Cohen, a violinist. Her program embraces the works of the masters.

Miss McHale's talent has been found to be so exceptional that this recital is in the nature of a testimonial to introduce her to the concert stage and probably start a public career for her. She began her studies when 6 years old with her aunt, Miss Ella McHale. At 13 she was a member of a concert company that toured Central Illinois and several towns in St. Louis County.

STRIKERS AND MILITIA IN BATTLE IN COLORADO HILLS

Lieutenant and 17 Men Reported Cut Off When Their Machine Gun Fails to Work.

DENVER, Colo., April 20.—Reports at the office of Adjutant-General John Chase today stated that a sharp battle was in progress in the hills between Berwind and Hastings, in the Colorado coal mine strike district. One report was that Lieut. Linderfelt, with 17 men, had been cut off by strikers when a machine gun they were operating failed to work.

The first official report came from Maj. P. J. Hamrock, in charge of the 45 militiamen left in the district north of Trinidad. He told Gen. Chase that 300 armed strikers were in the hills above Berwind Canon. Gen. Chase ordered him to take his troops and drive them out. At the same time a fresh troop of 47 men recently recruited in the strike district was put into active service.

A later report from Maj. Hamrock stated a battle was in progress in the hills.

Society

AN interesting out-of-town wedding Tuesday afternoon will be that of Miss Mary Dean Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Maximilian Duncan, formerly of St. Louis, and De Witt Russell Arnold of Montreal, Canada, which will take place in Montreal at 4:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Church.

Following the ceremony there will be a reception at the house, 29 Cote des Yeiges road, where the Duncans have lived for the past year.

Mr. Arnold is from Dayton, O., but it was in Montreal, where he now resides, that Miss Duncan met him. The bride made her debut in St. Louis two winters ago and was quite a belle.

After their wedding trip, Mr. Arnold and his bride will live in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Wright of 48 Portland place are entertaining Mrs. Wright's sister, Mrs. Pabst of Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Dameron and their daughters, Misses Catherine and Frances Dameron, have returned to their country home at Clarksville, Mo. They came down for the opera season.

Miss Matie Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Alonzo C. Church, and Miss Martha McChesney, daughter of William S. McChesney Jr., are going abroad in June with Mrs. Hart of Louisville, with whom they were in the Orient last year.

Mrs. Thomas Carr Powell of Cincinnati, who came over for the opera and has been stopping with her mother, Mrs. Robert B. Whittemore of 4619 Berlin avenue, will depart for her home Monday evening. Mrs. Powell was formerly Miss Leigh Whittemore.

The Misses Mary and Margaret Becker, who have been visiting Mrs. C. Massa of 5409 Maple avenue, have returned to their home after a three-weeks' trip.

The Knadlos Klub of Soldan High School gave an informal dance at Clendenen's Academy, Friday. The chaperons were: Messrs. and Mmes. H. W. Stewart, J. C. Radcliffe Jr., Carr Musick and Von Temme.

The next dance will be on May 8.

Miss Lula Halsey of Alton, Ill., is spending a few days with Miss Carma Clendenen of 5539 Vernon avenue.

A missionary tea will be held in the guild rooms of St. John's Episcopal Church, 3866 Arsenal street, Wednesday, at 3 p. m. Mrs. E. C. Simmons, president of the Missouri Branch of the Women's Auxiliary, will speak. Miss Upshaw and Mrs. Daniels will be in charge.

Mrs. Thomas J. P. Smith of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Thomas Morris, 3945 Sheridan avenue, for a week.

Miss Mabel Stief and Eugene Miller were married Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stief of 3710 California avenue. The bride's sister, Miss Estelle Stief, was bridesmaid. The groomsman was Mr. A. Courde. Mr. Miller and his bride have gone for a short honeymoon trip and will be at home after May 1.

SMALLPOX IN HOSPITAL

Two City Patients Have Disease; Ward Is Quarantined.

Two patients in division No. 9 of the negroes' ward at the city hospital were found to be suffering with smallpox Monday. They are G. M. Peace, 27 years old, and E. L. Puckitt, 31 years old. The division patients, numbering 32, were placed under quarantine.

The two sick negroes entered the hospital six weeks ago. On March 31, last, Gus Wilson, a negro, of Springfield, Mo., was taken to the hospital and treated for skin eruptions, which later developed into smallpox. Those in the same ward with Wilson, including Peace and Puckitt, were vaccinated. Twelve days later no new case had developed and hospital physicians believed those in the ward with Wilson had escaped contagion.

MAN, 60, KILLS SELF; ASKS TO BE FORGIVEN

Edward Dahlke, 60 years old, a chair welder, was found dead in his attic room at 1439 North Twelfth street at 2 p. m. Sunday by Henry Wilking of 1292 Madison street, a friend. Dahlke had cut both wrists and bled to death. He apparently had been dead since Saturday night.

Wilking found a note in German in which Dahlke complained of worry and trouble and asked that Henry Linn of 1422 North Twelfth street be notified if anything happened to him. The note states that any money due Dahlke from the German-American Club, of which he was a member, should be "left to the club with full memories." Dahlke begged to be forgiven for his acts.

Linn, also a member of the club, said Dahlke frequently had referred to a wife and child, but none of his friends knew where the man's family lived. Among Dahlke's effects was found a deed of trust for a farm in Iron County, Mo.

MRS. THOMPSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Her Severe Illness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I am just 52 years of age and I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. At times the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—MRS. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through their many and trying ailments as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Spring of Youth for Every Man

The health and strength of youth—strong nerves and sound organs—is within reach of every man and woman. Aphro Lymphatic Compound is the one remedy that will banish the constantly tired, worn feeling; it will soothe the shattered nerves and give health and strength and energy to the organs and thus enable them to properly perform their functions.

Aphro Lymphatic Compound is a scientific preparation, perfectly balanced and properly combining the properties necessary to restore the health and strength so essential to man or woman. It is a genuine reconstructive force in nervous exhaustion and loss of power, whether due from mental strain, worry or overwork of any kind. Get a package of Aphro Lymphatic Compound and let it help fit you for your work and social duties. Sold by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Enderle Drug Stores, City Hall Drug Store, 12th and Pine, Marquette Drug Store, 18th and Washington, H. FLOWER SEED REJECTED

W. Bates Says He Wants No Bouquets From Champ Clark.

William H. Bates, a Democratic leader in St. Charles County for 20 years, whose application for appointment as postmaster at St. Charles was recently turned down by Speaker Champ Clark, ordered Caspar Ehrhard instead to dump into the Missouri River a three bushel sack of flower seed sent to him for distribution by Clark, Saturday. He finally turned them over to the Commoner-Monitor, a Republican paper, for distribution.

Bates said he was not looking for any favors from Clark. "I have been hand picking Clark's flower seeds, garden seeds and making arrangements for his election in this county for 20 years," he said, "but from now on he can get some one else to run his chores."

CHURCH RAISES $50,000

Union Avenue Christian Now Owes Only $41,000.

Members of the congregation of the Union Avenue Christian Church, Union and Von Versen avenues, at the Sunday morning meeting contributed $50,000 toward a reduction of the church debt. The church now owes only $41,000 on its $225,000 building.

George L. Snively, a banker in Jacksonville, Ill., made the appeal for funds. His success in raising money for churches has caused him to be in demand each Sunday. He is paid for his services, but is known as a liberal contributor to Christian churches. He is said to contribute one-seventh of the money needed for the support of the Jacksonville church he attends.

TRIES TO DIE WITH GAS

Head of Printing Firm Affected by Overwork, Wife Thinks.

Overwork is given by Mrs. W. E. Evans of 4572 Easton avenue as the probable cause of her husband's attempt to kill himself with gas at the rooming house of Mrs. Margaret Coleman, 2819 Olive street, Sunday evening. She says he has been working every night for a month and she thinks his mind became temporarily unbalanced under the strain. Evans is the head of the W. E. Evans & Son Printing Co., 216 North Main street. At 6 o'clock in the evening he rented the Olive street room and at 10 o'clock the odor of gas was detected coming from it.

Policeman broke into the room and found Evans unconscious. Evans was taken to the city hospital. His condition is critical.

RICH FATHER AIDS SCHOOLBOY HELD AS A MURDERER

Theory Is That Youth, Accused of Killing Chauffeur, Shields Woman's Name.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 20.—A further mystery was added to the Clute murder case when Malcolm Gifford Sr., the wealthy Hudson manufacturer and father of the "prep" school boy in jail charged with the murder of an Albany chauffeur on April 1, 1913, said his son could establish a perfect alibi, but the facts could not be made public. It was reported the name of a woman might be involved if young Malcolm's whereabouts, the night of the murder, were disclosed.

"It is to shield a married woman that this information is being withheld?" Gifford was asked.

"No; I deny that positively," replied the father.

All the resources, financial and political, the Hudson manufacturer can command will be used to free his son. Members of the Hudson police force, professors in the exclusive preparator, school, chums, business men and society leaders in Hudson and Troy are prepared to testify the youth bore the best of reputations. Eminent counsel, including John B. Stanchfield, may be asked to defend him.

Mother Visits Him in Cell.

Mrs. Gifford, mother of the boy, visited him in his cell today. She wept as she departed. The boy put his arms around her and said: "Don't cry, mamma; I'm all right."

Gifford was transferred, today, to the county penitentiary.

The evidence against Gifford is entirely circumstantial. The only motive for the crime, it is said, is robbery. Clute was stripped of his jewelry, papers and pocketbook.

Several weeks before the murder, Gifford was found guilty by the head master of his school of violating rules. Dismissed, he went to Troy, keeping from his parents the fact that he had been "fired." His money soon gave out.

On the eve of April 1, with only a few cents in his pockets, he joined some of his former school chums, who were home on their Easter vacation. These boys were Derrick Boardman, Joseph Schlimmon, a freshman in Columbia University, and Howard Rainey, of Hudson. They all met at Boardman's home in the exclusive Washington Park section and arranged to attend the dinner and dance at the Troy Club.

Attired in evening clothes, the four boys started for the club house, but on the way Gifford left his companions, the latter said. He wore a gray overcoat and a gray fedora hat. He borrowed a key from Boarding, declaring he probably would not return until late.

Reached House at 10 a. m.

According to the testimony of chauffeurs, whose machines were near Clute's, a youth, who went away with Chute, answered, in many respects, the description of Gifford. It was not until 11:30 o'clock, witnesses say, that Gifford appeared at the Troy Club. He and his friends all went to the Boardman house at 1 o'clock in the morning and the next day, after sleeping late, packed their suit cases. Gifford asked his chums to put his gray hat in one case and his overcoat in another. When they arrived at Hudson, they went to Gifford's home and the coat and hat were taken out of the suit cases.

DID YOU SEE THE OVERFLOW?

The big Sunday Post-Dispatch Real Estate and Want Directory yesterday broke all records for April with a total of 7786 offers of services, employment, sale, purchase, barter, board, to rent, to let, lost and found. 4003 more than the Globe-Democrat. 6083 more than the Republic. 2350 more than the TWO others COMBINED!

Congratulations and best wishes to everybody.

BOY'S OWN STORY ADDS NEW MYSTERY TO KIDNAPING CASE

Declares Another Youth in Louisania Tinkerer's Wagon Was "Taken to Graveyard."

SECOND WEEK OF TRIAL

Crowds Besiege Opelousas Court Where Man Is Fighting for Life.

OPELOUSAS, La., April 20.—Another rush for seats in the courtroom to hear Julia Anderson's testimony was expected to greet the opening of the second week of the trial for the life, today, of W. C. Walters, accused of kidnaping the 5-year-old boy whom Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar claim is their son.

The Anderson woman came here from North Carolina to testify for the defense that the boy found with the itinerant tinker is Bruce Anderson, her illegitimate child.

The boy himself has added to the complexities of the situation by a statement he is said to have made outside the court.

"Walters was inside playing the piano. I was in the wagon holding the horse. The horse got scared. The other little boy fell out of the wagon," the child is said to have stated. When questioned as to the other boy's name, the lad is said to have replied "They took Bruce to the graveyard."

One of the many theories of the case is that Walters exchanged Bruce Anderson for Robert Dunbar.

ARCHBISHOP CRITICISES THE MULLANPHY BOARD

He Discusses Petty Fights and Suggests Way Be Found to Make Fund Useful.

Hair-splitting and circumscribed administration of the Mullanphy Emigrant Relief Fund was criticized by Archbishop Glennon and the Rev. Timothy Dempsey, at a meeting of the conference of Catholic Charities at Knights of Columbus Hall, Suuday.

A report had been submitted by Walter Schnaider, O'Neill Ryan and Philip C. Scanlan, who, acting as a special committee, had been investigating whether part of the fund could be used to employ a man and woman to give counsel and protection to strangers at Union Station.

Father Dempsey declared the Mullanphy Board, by sticking to the letter of the will, had prevented the carrying out of the charitable purposes of the donor. Archbishop Glennon said the board seemed to be occupied in making repairs, reports and rent collections and in petty fights over the secretaryship. He suggested the committee make a further effort to find some way in which the fund could serve a useful purpose.

The annual meeting of the conference will be held in the auditorium of the St. Louis University at 2 and 8 p. m., May 24. Nearly 800 Catholic societies will be represented.

CENTRAL COLLEGE HEAD HERE TO RAISE $225,000

Dr. Paul H. Linn Begins Campaign to Procure Endowment for Institution at Fayette, Mo.

The Rev. Dr. Paul H. Linn, president of Central College at Fayette, Mo., Sunday began a tour of the Southern Methodist churches in St. Louis in a campaign to raise $225,000 for the college. When this amount is raised the college will get $75,000 from the General Educational Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller.

The Rev. Dr. Linn, until September, 1913, was pastor of Scruggs Memorial Church in St. Louis. He was selected for the presidency of the college after Bishop Hoss had said he was the only man in Missouri who could raise the fund. He had raised $137,000 before coming to St. Louis. His first meeting here was at Cabanne M. E. Church, South, Sunday morning. Members of that congregation contributed $2375.

The fund of $300,000 will be an endowment to enable the college to educate poor young men for the Methodist ministry.

Victim, Who Says He's Member of Well-Known Family, Refuses to Give Name.

A well-dressed young man approached a policeman on Waterman avenue, between Belt avenue and Union boulevard, about 12:15 a. m. Monday, and reported he had been robbed of $2 by a masked highwayman in the block about 45 minutes earlier. He refused to give his name or address, but said he was a member of a well-known family.

He said he was returning from the home of his sweetehart when the robbery took place. His only reason for reporting the affair, he said, was to let the police know a highwayman had been in the vicinity. He had $5, he said, but the robber permitted him to retain $3.

Vivisection Jury Dismissed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—The jury in the case of Dr. Joshua E. Sweet, the University of Pennsylvania professor charged with wanton cruelty to dogs in failing to care for them properly after vivisection, was discharged when the foreman reported to the trial judge that a verdict could not be reached.

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR CHANGING DATE ON CAR TRANSFER

Police Say She Admits Alleged Forgery; U. R. Decides Not to Prosecute Her.

OPEN AIR MASS MEETING

People's League to Push Fight for Universal Transfers—Man Makes Test Rides.

Isabel Ballard, 28 years old, of 4111A Nebraska avenue, a domestic servant, was arrested at California avenue and Chippewa street Monday and was locked up in the Wyoming Street Police Station on a charge of forging a street car transfer by changing the date.

The woman's alleged offense, which the police say she admits, has no relation to the movement for universal transfers, now being carried on by the People's League. The league is contending, not for the right to use bad transfers, but for the issuance of good ones in the manner provided by law.

Fred Overy, conductor on a car of the Seventh street line, found that the printed date on a transfer, which he said Miss Ballard gave him, had been changed from April 19 to April 20, by the use of red ink. He notified George Thompson, division superintendent, who caused the arrest.

Alteration Easily Detected.

The superintendent said several transfers altered in the same manner had been turned in at the sheds. The alteration was easily detected on inspection, though it would escape the notice of a busy conductor.

All the altered transfers were from the Bellefontaine line. The police said Miss Ballard admitted that she had made a practice of getting transfers from the Bellefontaine line to Seventh street, at times when she did not need them, and retaining them, for use a day or two later.

No Prosecution by U. R.

Miss Ballard later was released at the request of Bruce Cameron, superintendent of transportation for the United Railways after she had made a written confession of her guilt. Weeping bitterly she told him of the death of her mother, Mrs. Kate Sunanks, three weeks ago, and said she had invented the forgery scheme herself to save money.

Cameron said the woman convinced him she was penitent and that he decided not to prosecute her on her promise never to repeat the offense. He said she told him she had been using redated transfers since last October, about an average of three a week. She said she was formerly a saleslrl, but quit work two months ago when her mother became ill. She told Cameron she had just received $104 from her mother's estate and was going to deposit the money in a bank when she used the transfer that led to her arrest.

Open-Air Meeting at Twelfth and Olive Streets on Transfer Issue.

An open-air meeting at Twelfth and Olive streets, Sunday afternoon, May 3, will be called by the People's League, for the purpose of discussing the demand for universal street car transfers. A formal protest against the refusal of the United Railways Co. to issue such transfers, in obedience to a recent order of Judge Grimm in the Circuit Court, will be made.

Charles L. Delbridge and Sheridan Webster, president and secretary of the league, intend that the public shall be informed, through this meeting, of its rights. The matter of demanding these rights will be left to individuals.

Charles A. Green, ward leader for the league in the Twenty-seventh Ward, made a demonstration Saturday of the use of the universal transfer privilege, which is being enforced by members of the league. His method is to demand a transfer which will carry him to his destination, and, when this is refused, to remain on the car. If forcibly put off, he would use the material for a suit against the company.

Passenger on Test Trip.

The first test trip which Green undertook Saturday was from 5000 South Broadway to Walnut Park. Green got on car number 2673 and faced conductor number 1833. He held a nickel over the fare box and asked for a transfer which would take him to Walnut Park. The conductor replied that he could not issue such a transfer, and suggested that he get off and walk west four or five blocks to the Bellefontaine line.

Green insisted that it was the duty of the company to take him to his destination for a nickel. The Broadway conductor said he would have to pay his fare if he stayed on the car. Green replied that Judge Grimm had ruled that he was entitled to a continuous ride to his destination for 5 cents, but the conductor said he knew nothing of such ruling. Green then told the conductor that he would ride to the point nearest the Bellefontaine line (Broadway and Park streets) and reserve his fare to transport him to Walnut Park. The conductor did not demur further. Green stepped inside the car and took a rear seat. He left the car at Broadway and Park street.

Green Tries a Ride West.

Green next essayed to ride from 3000 Locust street to 4700 Delmar boulevard for five cents. This is the ride, after deducting the ordinary passenger 10 cents, which Judge Grimm cited, in his opinion, as an injustice to the South Side.

He took Tower Grove car No. 2227, in charge of Conductor No. 1833, and told him he wished to go to 4700 Delmar boulevard. He was told that it would cost him two fares, as second transfers are not given from the Grand avenue line. Again Green informed the conductor of Judge Grimm's decision.

"That law's not in effect yet," the conductor replied.

"It's in effect as far as I'm concerned," Green added, "and if you think this law is not in effect, call a policeman and have me put off."

"No, I never have anyone put off my car," the conductor said. "If anybody has cheek enough to want to ride for nothing, I'll help him along. I'll let him ride.

Green then told conductor 1833 that he was not riding for nothing; that he was willing to pay a fare to get where he wanted to go, and that further flippant remarks might involve the company in a lawsuit. The conductor laughingly allowed him to remain until Grand avenue was reached without the payment of a fare.

Sued the U. R. for $11,000.

Green claims credit for getting better street car service for Walnut Park, where he lives. He first refused to pay fares on the Union line until a more extended transfer system was installed. He insisted on a ride from Robin avenue, the former terminus of the Union line, to Jefferson avenue and Hebert street. This trip required riding on four lines and the issuing of three transfers. Anyone can get such a transfer now, he says. As a result of being ejected from a Union car on June 13, 1913, Green sued the United Railways for $11,000. The case is pending in Judge Grimm's court. Green is a shoe-pattern maker.

MAYOR MITCHEL SPENDS HOUR AT PISTOL PRACTICE

Executive, in Inspecting New Water System, Has Ten Policemen as Bodyguard.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 20.—Mayor Mitchel of New York, who narrowly escaped the bullet of an assassin last Friday, spent an hour today improving his marksmanship. The Mayor is in the Ashokan Valley inspecting the engineering details of the system that will bring water to New York City from the Catskills. Maj. Merrit Smith, department engineer, in charge of the Southern Aqueduct Department, was his instructor today at pistol practice.

Ten members of the aqueduct police have been detailed as a bodyguard for the Mayor during his stay.

"APPLES" WERE WHISKY

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 20.—A spring of excelsior protruding from a barrel marked apples and being shipped from Springfield to Sapulpa, Ok., aroused the suspicions of truckers at the Frisco freight house, and they opened one of the shipments of 11 barrels. A 10-gallon keg of whisky was contained in each barrel.

The authorities are holding the shipment, pending an investigation. The case will be turned over to the Federal authorities.

S. C. EDGAR AND HIS WIFE REUNITED ON VISIT TO NEW YORK

Couple Stopped at the Biltmore and Departed Sunday, Supposedly for Boston.

Selwyn C. Edgar of 4379 Lindell boulevard, wealthy president of the Edgar Zinc Co., and his wife, who left him more than two months ago, have been reunited in New York, according to a dispatch from that city to the Post-Dispatch.

The dispatch states that Edgar and his wife were at the Biltmore Hotel in New York from Friday until Sunday, when they left, as the hotel clerk understood, for Boston.

Mrs. Edgar has been in New York for several weeks, as a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Melville D. Chapman, at her home, 15 West Tenth street, in the Washington Square section. Mrs. Chapman, it was stated, refused to talk of her sister's whereabouts.

Since he first publicly announced, Feb. 23, that his wife had gone to Chicago and had refused to return to him, Edgar has predicted that she would change her mind within a few months. At that time Edgar was in a state bordering on nervous prostration.

Edgar is 63 years old, and the present Mrs. Edgar, whom he married in 1908, is his third wife. She was formerly Miss Kathryne Shotwell, and was a member of the Woman's Club and the Morning Choral.

Mrs. Edgar, the husband said, went to Chicago Feb. 6, ostensibly for a brief visit to her brother, Alfred Shotwell of 207 East Chestnut street. He left for Cherryvale, Kan., on business Feb. 8, and wrote her a letter in which he made some complaint of her treatment of him, but said he would be glad to welcome her home when she should finish her visit.

He wired her from Cherryvale, asking her to meet him in St. Louis Feb. 15. She replied, saying she did not intend to return to him, and repeated this statement to him when he talked to her by long distance telephone.

6000 FEDERALS HELD IN TEXAS BECOME UNRULY

Prisoners at El Paso Stone and Curse Guards Since the Tampico Incident.

EL PASO, Tex., April 20.—Since the Tampico incident, the 5000 prisoners of the Mexican Federal army, held at Fort Bliss, have been unruly and clashes with the United States army guards are frequent. Groups of Mexicans frequently rush to the barbed wire stockade, hurling stones at the guards and cursing them.

The American soldiers, under orders, are not allowed to answer, but one guard shot three times at an offender, missed him, and told the officer of the guard that he should be dismissed from the army for his poor marksmanship. The guards have been doubled and machine guns trained on the camp.

Fort Bliss at El Paso, Fort Huachua in Arizona, the Ninth Cavalry camp at Douglas, the Tenth Cavalry at Nogales, Ariz., and the concentration camp at Texas City, Tex., were connected by direct wire with the War Department at Washington today.

Foreseeing possible trouble with the 15,000 Mexicans now in El Paso, troops are patroling the city reservoir to prevent attempts to poison the water supply. The gas and telephone lines are also being guarded. There are about 3000 troops of the regular army in and near El Paso, including several machine gun platoons and a battery of the Sixth Field Artillery.

GROCER, MISSING THREE DAYS, BACK IN ST. LOUIS

He Said He Had Trouble With Wife but She Says She Was Not Aware of Any.

Frank Fleischhacker of 4600 Varrellman avenue, a grocer, whose disappearance was reported by his wife last Tuesday, returned to St. Louis yesterday afternoon from Toledo, where he said he had been for three days.

His wife found his new automobile crated and addressed for shipment to Toledo, after his departure, and she prevented it from being sent to him.

Fleischhacker told a reporter that he wished his creditors to know he did not leave the city because of any business difficulty, but only because he had had trouble with his wife. He said his plans for the future were not fully made.

Mrs. Fleischhacker said last night that she was not aware of any trouble between them. She said he had talked of taking a journey for recreation, and that she had opposed this plan. She said he telephoned her of his return, and that they arranged for a meeting at a friend's home. She has been running the store in his absence and said the business was in good shape.

RICHARD MURRAY, LUKOS MURDER SUSPECT, CAUGHT

Fugitive, Who Had Been Indicted, Found Behind a Door at Home of Mother-in-Law.

Richard Murray, 23 years old, known to the police as "Bud" Murray, who had been a fugitive since his indictment on a charge of murdering Stephen Lukos, a saloon keeper, in Lukos' saloon at Tenth and Chambers streets, last September, was arrested Monday afternoon at the home of his mother-in-law, 2518A North Spring avenue.

Lukos and his bride of five months were in the saloon when two men entered and ordered drinks. While he was drawing beer for them, they opened fire on him with revolvers and shot him dead in his bride's presence.

Frederick Moeller, 24 years old, of 1426 Wright street, was arrested and confessed his complicity in the killing. He named Murray as his companion.

Moeller Found Guilty.

Moeller was found guilty by a jury in the Criminal Court and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment. After deliberating for several hours, the jury asked the Judge whether a transcript of Moeller's testimony could be used at Murray's trial in case Murray was ever captured. The Judge ruled that a transcript could not be used and Moeller's verbal testimony would be needed to convict Murray.

Members of the jury afterwards said that they would have condemned Moeller to death but for the chance that, if he remained alive, he would at some time be available as a witness against Murray.

Found Behind a Door.

Since Murray's flight the police have traced him to various places in the United States and Canada. Recently he has been in Kansas City. Monday the police received a tip that he had returned to St. Louis. When they searched his mother-in-law's home where his wife and two children also live, they found him behind a door.

When arrested, he declined to make a statement and would answer no questions as to the Lukos murder.

TWO DEAD, TWO INJURED IN AEROPLANE COLLISION

Gasoline Tanks Explode When Machines, Each Carrying a Passenger, Meet in Midair.

BUC, France, April 20.—Francois de Roy, an aviator, and Marcel Dablin, a passenger, were burned to death as a result of a collision in the air yesterday. Thousands of spectators saw the accident.

De Roy's machine and another piloted by the aviator Bedault with a passenger, M. Pelladeau, crashed together. The gasoline tanks exploded and both machines, bursting into flames, fell to the earth.

Bedault and Pelladeau, although seriously injured, extricated themselves from the blazing wreckage, but De Roy and Dablin were pinned down and the intense heat prevented rescuers from approaching.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 20.—After two weeks' unsuccessful search for the missing sealer Southern Cross, the steamer Kyle returned to port yesterday. The Southern Cross and her crew of 173 men has been given up as lost.

ST. LOUIS BUSINESS MAN TELLING FRIENDS

Makes an Interesting Statement in Regard to Plant Juice, the New Tonic.

Mr. Paul Marshall, a well-known business man of St. Louis, who was a member of the 30th Missouri Infantry in 1862, and has been in business for forty years here is another Plant Juice enthusiast. He is at present in the grocery business at 2907 North Broadway.

He said: "I have been taking Plant Juice for stomach trouble with good results. I was troubled with gas forming on my stomach and with constipation. Plant Juice has relieved these and my stomach is now in good condition. My sister also took it with good results; we are both well pleased with it."

No remedy of modern times has been so successful in combating ailments of the stomach, kidneys, liver, nerves or blood, as this great vegetable remedy. It stimulates the sluggish, torpid liver into action corrects constipation, tones up the stomach, and digestive organs, gives a good healthy appetite and invigorates and strengthens the entire system. If you suffer with indigestion, rheumatism, pains across the back or in the joints, weak kidneys, sluggish liver, headaches, dizzy spells, poor circulation, gas and bloating after meals, sour stomach, no appetite, are nervous and sleep badly try Plant Juice. Frost as Far South as Alabama Predicted for This Week.

WASHINGTON, April 20.

FROST as far South as Northern Alabama is predicted for the beginning of the week by the Weather Bureau.

"The week will open," the bulletin says, "with showers and lower temperatures in the Atlantic states and with generally fair and much colder weather in the lake region and the great central valleys with freezing temperatures over the northern tier of states, and with frost as far down as the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma, Northern Arkansas, Tennessee and possibly the extreme northern portions of Mississippi and Alabama.

"By Tuesday the cool weather will reach the Middle Atlantic states and New England, and fair weather will prevail for several days. The cool period will be short and the higher temperatures over the West will extend rapidly eastward after Monday in advance of a Northwest disturbance reaching the Atlantic states by the middle of the week.

"The Northwest disturbance will move eastward and southeastward, attended by showers over the Northwest early in the week, reaching the plains states and the central portion of the country by the middle of the week and probably New England and the Middle Atlantic states a day or so later.

"In the Gulf states and the Southwest the weather will be generally fair during the week, while in the South Atlantic states fair weather will prevail after Monday.

"After the passage of the first Northwest disturbance, fair weather with moderate temperatures will prevail over the West until the end of the week."

GUN TOTER FINED AGAIN

Out of Workhouse Few Hours, He Disturbs Meeting.

Robert Beatty, who completed a six months' term in the workhouse Saturday at noon, for carrying a concealed weapon, and who says he lives with his sister at 2611 Sheridan avenue, was fined $25 in the Dayton Street Police Court Monday on a charge of disturbing a meeting Saturday night at the Pentecost Mission, 2733 Franklin avenue.

The mission is in charge of C. Emerick, the complainant, who testified that Beatty threatened his life, using the words, "I'll cut you into shoestrings." Beatty denied he disturbed the meeting and said a woman was the cause of the trouble. He would make no further statement.

Duffy's Brought Relief

Doctor Recommended It For Sluggish Liver and General Debility.

Here's a woman who refused substitutes because she knows what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey does to promote health:

"I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past six years and for a long time previous have been calling regularly on a physician who advised that my ailment was caused by a sluggish liver and general debility.

"At the end of one of my visits to my doctor he told me I should go right out and get some Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I did. He advised me to take this regularly three or four times a day, and the result is I have been able to give up my visits to the doctor and am faithfully taking my Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"A short time ago the dealer from whom I had been buying tried to induce me to take another whiskey he claimed to be just as good, but after what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for me I know that none of the other brands can be just as good."—Mrs. M. Fischer, 330 East 35th St., New York City.

5 MEN ARRESTED AS PICKPOCKETS AT M'KINLEY STATION

One Prisoner Confesses He Was Following Circus; Another Identified as Robber.

Five men, said by the police to be too dangerous to be permitted to roam the streets of St. Louis, were lined up at Police Headquarters Monday. They were classed as pickpockets, and Detective Chief Allender instructed his men to scrutinize them closely.

"As long as they remain here, see that they do not get a block away from the holdover," said Allender. "They are the cream of their profession and they delight in outwitting the police. It is up to you men to give them a taste of their own medicine. Make it as hot for them as you can."

The men thus introduced were "Big Ear Willie" O'Keefe, "Cape Girardeau Blackey," otherwise known as Richard C. Meyers; Dan Mason, also called "The Leaper;" Edward Wilson and Harry Mannion. With the exception of O'Keefe, who is a Boston product, the prisoners gave their addresses as Chicago. O'Keefe is the husband of "Boston Lil" Kurwin, a notorious woman thief, who was arrested by the St. Louis police two years ago.

Special Officers Oertli and Hutton, with the assistance of Patrolman Chandler, arrested the quintet at the McKinley depot Sunday evening. They were strolling about in the crowds.

"Big Ear Willie" had not been in St. Louis for 16 years. "Cape Girardeau Blackey" was arrested here 10 years ago and warned to remain away forever. He has served time in the prison at Waupun, Wis. Wilson was arrested here 12 years ago.

In Wilson's pocket the police found a schedule card giving the posts of the Hagenback-Wallace circus. He admitted he had intended to trail the show.

James Lindsay of 4290 Kennerly avenue, identified Mason as one of three men who robbed him of $8.30 on an Eighteenth street car at Cass avenue, last Saturday evening.

New profiles and front views of the prisoners were made by the police photographer, and the men were ordered held in separate cells so they could not communicate with each other.

So far none of the prisoners has been connected with the robbery last Saturday of Fred Hanpeter of the Hanpeter Furniture Co., who lost $1180 for the fatcory payroll, on a Broadway car at Morgan street.

ST. LOUIS TRADE PARTY REACHES RIO DE JANEIRO

Formal Calls Will Be Made and Coffee Plantations Visited.

A cablegram from Rio de Janeiro, received Monday by the Business Men's League from W. F. Saunders, secretary and general manager, follows:

"St. Louis party arrived at Rio de Janeiro this morning, after a very pleasant trip. Party is at Hotel Avenida and planning to remain at Rio about a week. Party will make a round of formal calls, first on American Minister Edwin V. Morgan, on American Consul Julian G. Lay and then on several officials to whom the party have letters of introduction—among them Dr. Lauro Miller and Count Candido Mendes de Almeida, editor of one of the most influential journals printed in South America, O Brazil. Count Almeida, it will be remembered, planted a coffee tree on the grounds of Washington University, where the Brazilian building stood during the World's Fair, when he was entertained by the Business Men's League in St. Louis a year ago.

"Tomorrow the party will separate and proceed in different ways, each one having certain assignments which have been made after consultation on the voyage. Party plans to go by rail from Rio to Sao Paulo, and after a day there, to examine one of the coffee plantations nearest the city, and then return by rail to the coast, taking the ship at Santos for Montevidio."

MARRIED 7 MONTHS AGO

F. V. Woodlock and Wife Announce Wedding of Sept. 22.

Frank V. Woodlock of 6 Beverly place and his wife, who was formerly Miss Grace M. Spindler of 4010 Maple avenue, have sent out cards announcing their marriage, which took place Sept. 22 last. They stated that they were married in St. Roch's Chapel on that date, with Miss Vivian Spindler and Edgar A. Grove as attendants, and that, because of the serious illness of Woodlock's mother, Mrs. F. X. Woodlock, they decided not to announce the marriage at that time. The mother died soon afterward. Woodlock continued to live at his former home and the bride at her home. After May 1 they will be at home in an apartment at Skinker road and Berlin avenue.

'RESCUER,' BEATEN ROBBED

Joseph Grueschuf, 18 years old, of 1243 South Third street, was found at Broadway and Convent street about 2 a. m. Monday with several scalp wounds. He told the police he had been beaten by two men at Twelfth and O'Fallon streets because he had "tried to talk a Mrs. Frank out of the notion of jumping into the river." He was taken to the city hospital.

Policemen, in addition to patrolling the bank of the Mississippi, searched for "Mrs. Frank," but could find no trace of her. Grueschuf said he was robbed of $9 by his assailants.

GRIPPE PREVALENT

How to Regain Strength After a Severe Attack.

With so much grippe prevalent this winter a few words of advice regarding its cause and treatment will not be out of place.

Grippe is an infectious disease easily taken when the system is in a tired or run-down condition.

The best means of prevention are to keep the blood in good healthy condition, and if the system gets into a weak, run-down condition, take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

A lady from Long Branch, N. J., says: "Grippe left me in a nervous, weakened, run-down condition. After taking three bottles of Vinol I am better and stronger than I have been for years, and I cheerfully recommend Vinol to all who have suffered from the grippe and need strength." (Name furnished on request.)

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent, the weak and run-down as Vinol, and your money will be returned if it does not do all we claim for it.

P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Encroachments on Liberty.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

One of your white ribboners asked, "where are you going to put the shackles on our blessed liberties?" There are so many snackles on our liberties that there is no liberty left to talk about. In the face of Secretary Daniels' order, I would promptly resign if I was a navy officer, and I don't doubt that all self-respecting officers will resign. If you cannot trust them with a bottle of beer, you cannot trust them with a gig, whaleboat or battleship. The fanatical custom of enforcing temperance by prohibition in the American merchant service makes it nearly impossible to get a crew of sailors for an American ship in a foreign port, except by shanghai-ing, and this is one of the reasons why the American merchant ship has vanished from the oceans.

Is it right and just to deny all men their rights because some men are weaklings? No! and a thousand times no! There are other ways of dealing with the weaklings. Is it right to deny all women their finery because some women bankrupt their husbands, ruin their families and sell their self-respect and good name to satisfy their craving for style and finery? Answer, you white ribboners.

FORESYARDARM.

A Woman Not a Person.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Judge Advocate of England has decided that a woman is not a person.

Now let some other English Judge decide that a woman has no soul. Let us get further back to barbarism as soon as possible, England leading the way.

CANADIAN.

No National Anthem.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It seems queer that the average American don't know what the national anthem of the United States is. I was at the Federal League ball game today, and when the Governor of the State and the Mayor of this city went out on the field to start the game the band played England's national song, "God Save the King," or "America," which is not the national anthem.

The "Star-Spangled Banner" is the national song, so why not have it played on such occasions? Almost every one in the pavilion stood up and took off their hats when the band played the "bloody," "bloomin'," "bleeding" Englishman's national air.

As I understood it, "America," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie" and "Too Much Mustard" are just patriot songs. Is this the correct dope?

BASEBALL.

No Need for Water Meters.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Replying to letter of H. B. Price in regard to "waste water," is Mr. Price interested in the manufacture or sale of water meters? What are the reasons and chances for graft in ordering, selling and installing thousands of meters? Does Mr. Price think that all these meters are read direct in the city hall? Nay, nay, Pauline. It's too fishy with the meter question. The Water Department is not losing any money, therefore, Mr. Price, y u should worry.

WATER CONSUMER.

Information on Militia Wanted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I saw some time ago in this department a plea for more members to join the "Missouri National Guards." Now, we all see advertisements for soldiers and sailors for the regular army, but nothing concerning the State guards, which is saying that we don't know enough about them to be interested in them. Therefore, will the person (or others) who made mention of this lately please send a letter to the people, stating all about the guards, giving requirements to enter, pay, days of drill practice and all about it. Let's hear something!

Opera Congests Traffic.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

What authority have the police to close the traffic in the evening on Grand avenue going South between Cook and Finney? Have people other than opera-goers a right on so important thoroughfare?

A MYSTERY.

Prices of Anthracite Coal.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Are we to be held up again by the Coal Trust, as we have been for a number of years past, notwithstanding our Attorney-General, the Sherman act and an administration determined to break up monopolies and $50,000 fines, etc.?

Last year the price of anthracite coal was $7, with notification that if you did not buy in April it would be $7.10 in May and 10 cents advance each month. Now it is $7.50. Why?

Cannot the consumers agree among themselves that they will not pay any price any dealer chooses to ask or that may be demanded by the Eastern coal barons?

SENEX.

THE AMERICAN PURPOSE.

The purpose of our Government as expressed by President Wilson is not changed by the change of method in dealing with Huerta from peaceful expostulation to aggressive action.

The purpose from the beginning of intervention has been the elimination of Huerta as a usurper and disturber, and the restoration of peace and order under constitutional government in Mexico. Doubtless the President will make this as clear in his message asking Congress for power to act in pursuance of this purpose as he has hitherto made it clear in his utterances explaining the attitude of the administration.

The present situation is singular in that we are preparing to use force without making war. Our sole object is to eliminate Huerta and give the Mexican people an opportunity to set up a legal, efficient government. Huerta's attitude has made it necessary that force be used and that he be punished for his insolent conduct towards the United States. His insults are the occasion of aggressive action. His downfall is the primary object as a necessary step to better conditions in Mexico. We are not making war on the Mexican nation, nor attacking a recognized and established Mexican government.

What may happen hereafter will depend upon the Mexicans. They may misunderstand our motives. But the American people should keep in mind the true situation and the real object our Government is seeking in using the armed forces of the nation. We, at least, should avoid anger and keep our record straight.

LET US HOPE.

Now let the Citizens' Bridge Committee lend its sincere aid and we will soon straighten out the tangle and the people will have a chance to vote on the bonds.—"Jiggers" Gallagher of the A. & M. House combine in a Republic interview.

This is an admirable change of attitude from that of Delegate Gallagher and his combine associates when the Citizens' Bridge Committee was accused of "butting in" and its representatives were kicked out of the bridge bond hearing for trying to give sincere aid in offering the people a chance to vote on the bonds.

We sincerely hope the change is permanent and that Mr. Gallagher and his associates will give sincere reciprocation when the committee again tries to rescue them from their wretched predicament.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S NEGLECTED TEETH.

The Board of Education Report for 1912-1913, just issued, shows that some progress was made in that period in the care of the teeth of the children of the public schools. Three dental clinics—those of the St. Louis University, the Barnes University and the Washington University—cared for the teeth of 792 school children free. This represented the extent of their resources and was a great improvement over the showing of the previous 12 months. The thanks of the people of St. Louis are due to the voluntary workers of these three great institutions for this public service.

But the report shows that no less than 5416 cases of dental disease or malformation received no attention. This number of poor children had to attend school without the necessary dental care that would have relieved toothache and enabled them to keep pace with more fortunate pupils.

St. Louis is backward in this matter of dental hygiene. It is a question of money. If the city will make an adequate appropriation, every child can receive the necessary attention. Other cities of the size and wealth of St. Louis have solved the problem.

"Encouraging but not final" is the way Secretary Bryan always describes the daily news from Mexico. So inveterate an optimist would not find anything discouraging even in news that was final.

PUTTING CONGRESSMEN ON RECORD.

On a roll call the House adopted by a vote of 237 to 95 an amendment to the legislative appropriation bill limiting Congressmen to their actual expenses in moving with their families between Washington and their homes and cutting off the 40-cents-a-mile graft, which had nothing but its antiquity to recommend it.

Having reached this meritorious decision the House then cut out the unworthy provision added to the bill in committee of the whole the other day increasing the salaries of their secretaries by $300 a year. By the two votes nearly $300,000 will be saved the taxpayers a year, always provided, of course, that the households of our statesmen do not show an increase baffling to race suicide now that the traveling expenses of the whole family are to be paid from the public purse.

The mileage and other congressional grafts would have met this fate long ago had it been possible to put the members on record. It was only by denying a roll call that the increase in members' salaries from $5000 to $7500 a year was originally jammed through some years ago.

While the wonder is that it was possible to secure a roll call this year, the House is to be congratulated on what it has done. The Senate should not, through a refusal to concur, dissipate the excellent impression made.

THE DEFECT IN SEGREGATION LAWS.

The idea of setting aside areas of the city for the residence of blacks which shall be different from areas reserved for whites is every little while revived in St. Louis. Much ingenuity has been shown here and elsewhere in devising these plausible plans of segregation, but they are all fatally defective in denying citizenship equality under the law and limiting the right of contract and the right to acquire and hold title to real estate.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina has just declared invalid a carefully drawn segregation ordinance passed by the city of Winston-Salem in that State. The Virginia courts had previously taken like action with reference to a segregation ordinance of Norfolk, Va. Baltimore has had two segregation ordinances rejected by the courts and is now hopefully trying to devise a new scheme which will, however, meet the same fate. For if it should pass the ordeal of the State courts, it would be sure to be knocked out by the Federal courts.

The serious problem of conserving the real estate values which are so seriously affected when joint occupancy of the same district by both races is attempted must be solved by other means than restrictive legislation.

The Civic League suggests four ways of reducing the tax rate, but if municipal waste were cut out the other three would be superfluous.

WHAT CONGRESS SHOULD DO

When Congress acts on the Mexican question the motives and purposes of the American people should be set forth by that body in language that will admit of no dispute.

When war was declared against Spain in April, 1898, Congress asserted that "the people of the island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent," and added:

"The United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination when that is completed to leave the government and control of the island to its people."

President Wilson is already on record. At Swarthmore, Pa., last October, he laid down the proposition that nowhere on this continent could a government endure except upon the consent of the governed. Two days later at Mobile, with the possibilities of action in Mexico in mind, he made use of memorable words:

"I want to take this occasion to say that the United States will never again seek one additional foot of territory by conquest. * * * I say this not with a single thought that anyone will gainsay it, but merely to fix in our consciousness what our real relationship with the rest of America is. It is the relationship of mankind devoted to the development of true constitutional liberty."

Congress holds the sword. It should never authorize its use against an American except in behalf of ideas which may be openly published so that all the world will understand.

READ GENERAL ORDER No. 217 AGAIN.

The robbers who stole payroll money from F. W. Haupeter showed a fondness for street car travel establishing some points of identity with the men who pulled off the Brown Shoe Co. job. Not as much time was wasted in getting the story of the crime in the latest as in the former case, but are there any evidences of that "improvement all along the line" on the part of the police which Assistant Chief Gillaspy insisted on?

The reading of general order No. 217 might profitably be made a daily exercise in all station houses.

TWO NEEDED REFORM LAWS.

Two bills just passed by the New York legislature easily take rank among the most significant and valuable legislation of the present year. One brings private bankers under the supervision of the State Banking Department. It also provides that private bankers must not convert deposits to their own use, that they must segregate assets purchased with bank money and that depositors shall have a lien on such assets. The Morgan & Co. banking house will for the first time be brought under supervision by this law.

The purpose of the second bill is control of the drug habit. Only on the prescription of a physician can any habit-forming drug be legally sold hereafter in New York State and the name of physician, purchaser and vendor must be placed on the package in which the drug is contained. If a prescription calls for more than four grains of morphine, 30 grains of opium, 2 grains of heroin and 4 drams of chloral it must not be filled by the pharmacist until he has verified its genuineness. In making their own purchases of these drugs from manufacturers or wholesalers pharmacists and physicians must use official order blanks supplied by the health authorities and bearing serial numbers. The design of the bill is to enable all drug sales to be traced and abuses detected.

Every State should have a law regulating private banks. The alarming prevalence of the drug habit creates a special legislative problem in many states, especially those which have statewide prohibition or a large proportion of local-option counties. The working of New York's law may show that it has contributed something toward a solution of this difficult problem.

The "honorable and serene policy of the government of the republic" is Huerta's description of a policy that began in murder and is ending in impotence and disgrace.

APRIL SHOTS HEARD ROUND THE WORLD.

The start of our first war on April 19, 1775, has a stirring reminder in a metrical version.

By the rude bridge that arched the flood
Their flag to April's breeze unfurled.

It seems that we have a way of firing shots heard round the world—or at least aiming such shots—in April. The declaration of war in 1812 was not made until June 18, but was preceded by much early spring unpleasantness. The border attack by the Santa Anna General Arista on Capt. Thornton of the Second United States dragoons that precipitated the Mexican War was made on April 25. Fort Sumter was fired on April 12, 1861. The Cuba libre resolution demanding the withdrawal of Spanish troops was passed April 19, 1898.

The month is one of ill omen for Huerta as well as for former enemies of the United States.

OUR TRADE WITH ARGENTINA.

From the Indianapolis News.

Argentina is the foremost South American country as a market for products of the United States, our sales thereto in the last calendar year having been $55,000,000 in value, compared with $40,000,000 to Brazil and $53,000,000 to the remaining 12 countries of that continent.

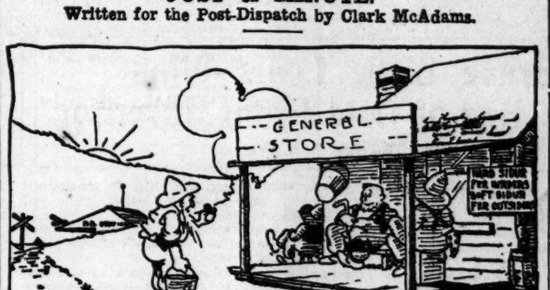

The trade with Argentina shows constant and rapid expansion, exports having grown from $5,000,000 in 1893 to $14,000,000 in 1903 and $55,000,000 in 1913; while imports therefrom rose from $5,000,0000 in 1893 to $9,000,000 in 1903 and $27,000,000 in 1913. Thus exports to Argentina quadrupled and imports therefrom trebled during the last 10 years.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

MR. ANTWINE HAS A THEORY.

"I HAVE a theory," Mr. Antwine said. "What with the President's waiting and watching, Mr. Bryan's grape juice for foreign diplomats, and Mr. Daniels' grogless navy, the administration knows very well that it is falling into soft repute as a lot of old grandmothers, and it has decided to prove its manhood.

"The Tampico incident does not, in my opinion, constitute a reasonable casus belli except in the light of the theory I have advanced. The local commander simply marched one of our boat crews up town and then turned it loose. He apologized. Nobody was hurt. Mr. Wilson says we are not to look at that incident alone, and I am trying not to do so. I am looking at it in the light of my theory, as well as in connection with the other incidents he mentioned.

"I want to make a prediction in this connection. I will predict that when the administration does set out to show us that it is something more than a lot of chautauqua lecturers and domestic reformers, it will terrify everybody with its ferocity. That usually happens."

LONG TIME BETWEEN VISITS.

From the Hopkinsville (Ky.) New Era.

A stranger walked into Circuit Clerk Radford's office Thursday morning and Mr. Radford, as usual, asked, "Can I do anything for you, sir?"

"No," replied the stranger. "I was just looking around. The last time I saw this courthouse it was a pile of bricks."

It then developed that the visitor was W. G. Redmond, who says he was a member of the Federal troops that gave chase to Gen. Lyon the day after the latter burned the courthouse here.

This is Mr. Redmond's first visit to Hopkinsville since that day, 49 years ago. He says that nothing looks familiar to him now except Little River. That hasn't changed appreciably during that time.

Big Day for the Editor.

The editor of a Kansas paper says that he picked up a Winchester rifle recently and started up the street to deliver the weapon to its owner. The delinquent subscribers got it into their heads that he was on the war path, and every one he met insisted on paying all they owed. One man wiped out a debt of 10 years' standing. On returning to the office, he found a load of hay, 15 bushels of corn, 20 bushels of potatoes, a load of wood and a barrel of turnips.—La Belle Star.

WHY CAPITAL PUNISHMENT?

From the Washington Post.

When every possible lesson has been finally extracted from the electrocution of the New York gunmen, there remains to be pondered the supreme question which an ocasion of that character ever brings uppermost—Whether those who met the full penalty of the law were wholly blameworthy is not, after all, the sole issue. Nor, again, is the other, more searching in its quality, that of the responsibility of society at large with regard to the conditions of their upbringing; or the still more sinister charge, namely, that a fearsome confederation exists between the powers that rule and the powers that prey, which, in its effect, forces the latter to do the unquestioning bidding of the former, even if that means ruthless murder.

The great question is, does the lifeless clay of the four men found guilty of murder satisfy the righteous demands of an outraged law? May it not, in the light of a modern day, rather picture the glutted vengeance of an archaic code that once ran parallel to the current conceptions of justice, but which has been outgrown and left behind in the development of human thought? The experiences of the families, the Judges, the Warden, the Governor, and the community at large would seem to indicate as much.

Is not the all but universal revulsion against capital punishment a part of our better understanding with regard to the relationship in which the most depraved of its individual members stands to the race in general? Would not life imprisonment at hard labor prove equally efficacious as a deterrent to murder, and even more fully work out through its prolonged period of enforced expiation the demands of Justice? At all events, four dead bodies in as many wooden boxes do not solve the problem.

MAN CARRIES EIGHT WATCHES.

From the Chicago Examiner.

Dr. Andrew Deyo, a guest at the Hotel Alexandria in Los Angeles, Cal., has an unusual hobby. It is watches.

Dr. Deyo is not in the watch business, but he carries with him wherever he goes eight of the oddest watches ever seen in one collection.

He has:

A buttonhole watch, one-fourth of an inch in diameter.

A triangular watch, the hands of which jump back for a fresh start every hour.

A watch that is never wound, but is kept going by the motion of the body.

A watch that opens like a camera shutter to tell the time.

A "day" watch four inches in diameter.

A "night" watch seven and a half inches in diameter that weighs two pounds.

A hammer watch and others for various occasions.

Dr. Deyo treats them like he might a family of children.

"If I had one more I'd have to carry a mechanician around with me," he says.

BEAUTY CULTURE.

ROSECREST.—Only surgery, which might disfigure, would make moles smaller. To reduce thick lips, rub with a solution of tannin in water. If the astringent is too severe, apply a cream made of these ingredients—40 ounces of any popular standard cold cream and one gram each of pulverized tannin and albanet chips. Let macerate five hours, then strain through cheesecloth and bathe lips two or three times daily.

T. D.—For sage tea take 2 ounces dried garden sage and 2 ounces green tea. Put into an iron pot (be particular about this) and add 2 quarts of boiling water, then cover closely. Let steep gently until 2 quarts are left. Remove and let stand 24 hours, then strain and put into bottles. Apply to scalp every morning and night, massaging for 5 or 10 minutes. This is distinctly a stain as well as a tonic.

HEALTH HINTS.

A. K.—A medical writer advises as to itch or salt rheum. Scratch and scrape the skin with wet fingers, and afterwards rub with a damp, coarse crash towel daily; then dry the skin. Eat more fresh uncooked herb salads and vegetables and quit drinking coffee, tea or other beverages except plain water.

WHO GROW COFFEE AND TEA?

RYAN.—In 1911, for the ninth time in the period 1901-1911, inclusive, British India led the world in the production of tea with a crop aggregating 256,344,000 pounds. This figure was the highest touched by any tea-producing country in the period specified, and surpassed the next highest record, made by the same country in 1910, by nearly 6,000,000 pounds. As usual, China and Ceylon followed in the order named in 1911, with crops that totaled 195,040,000, and 183,360,000 pounds, respectively. The record production for China, 214,427,200 pounds, was made in 1907, but only in 1902 and 1903 did the Chinese crop lead the world in size. The record crop of Ceylon, the third largest producer, was harvested in 1908, when the output amounted to 192,387,000 pounds. In that year the Ceylon crop came nearest to equaling the Chinese production, the difference being under 7,000,000 pounds. The best Japanese crop was produced in 1908, it being 48,239,000 pounds, against 47,917,000 in 1911. In the latter year the Japanese crop was surpassed by that of Java. Statistics covering 1911 crop of Formosa, one of the six leading producing centers, were unavailable at the time records of the various productions were compiled by the Department of Commerce and Labor. The world's production of coffee, Brazil holds the pre-eminent place. In 1880 the exports from Brazil amounted to 1720 pounds; they have steadily increased until in 1908 they were more than 2,250,000,000 pounds. The area in Brazil suitable for coffee cultivation covers about 1,158,400 square miles, or an area larger than the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Texas and California, but the area under cultivation is small compared to that which could be cultivated, but little over 1,000,000 acres being in coffee in 1904. About three-fourths of the world's coffee is grown in Brazil, and the State of Sao Paulo alone produces one-half of the world's supply. Venezuela and Colombia rank next in amount produced, each growing in the neighborhood of 100,000,000 pounds annually. Mexico, the Central American states and the Dutch East Indies also produce large quantities. The only coffee produced in the United States is grown in Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

The bill forbids a white person moving into a block in which the greater part of the habitable frontage is tenanted by negroes and forbids a negro moving into a block similarly tenanted by whites."

NELDER.—The signal S. O. S. is one of the numerous conventional three-letter signals used in radio communication and adopted by international agreement at the International Radio-Telegraph Convention held in London in 1912. For instance, Q. R. B. means "what is your distance?" Q. R. G. "what line do you belong to?" Q. S. M. "what is your true course?" etc. The letters used for these abbreviations are purely arbitrary and are not initials of any words. International agreement in regard to their use and also in regard to the assignment of signal call letters, which are likewise three-letter signals, is necessary to prevent confusion, as most of the radio communication on the high seas is between ships and shore stations of different nationalities. S. O. S. was chosen as a distress call because of its distinctive sound and the ease with which it may be recognized and sent by others than trained operators. In the International Morse Code, which is obligatory for all radio communication, this signal consists of three dots, three dashes and three dots. All stations hearing this call are bound to cease transmitting immediately. This clears the air for the call of distress, which then sends forth all the particulars of the disaster and assumes control of ensuing communication. The object aimed at is to prevent interference and give the vessel in distress absolute right of way for her own messages.

Answers to Correspondents

Editor Gets Her Replies Mixed, but the Result Is Satisfactory, Nevertheless.

By S. SPENCER MORRIS.

MISS HART surveyed the customary rejection slip through the customary mist of tears. The green globes of the electric light above her battered desk—it had been the managing editor's before he acquired a roll-top—danced three or four times multiplied through her tears. The grimy wall behind was obliterated.

Her lips quivered, and her hand, which was beginning to show the heavy veining of age in the wrinkling skin, beat nervously upon the big envelope which held the thousandth destruction of her hopes. Miss Hart would never be able to accept the rejection of her manuscripts with the philosophic indifference of those who have had manuscripts accepted. That the Cycle had declined, in the politest manner compatible with a printed form, her verses on "The Life Immortal," was as bitter a grief to her as if as "Eternal Love" had been to all of it.

The managing editor of the Weekly Chronicle passed behind the withered little woman's desk, and heard the suspicious sound of a sniffle. He had letters that day, and felt the wide-embracing sympathies of a man lately come into an unexpected legacy. Pausing, he questioned his „associate," as he called her in expansive moments, and heard the story of 30 years of unavailing efforts.

"Indeed, indeed, Mr. Beedy, said Miss Hart, in tones divided between sobs, resignation and shrill oratory, "it is not mere ambition which is hurt—not even worldly ambition, that is. But it's—and she raised her tear-stained, kind, conscientious, homely little face to him—"but oh, if you knew how I long to influence my kind, to say some word of—of—anything——"

Evangulation won. Miss Hart could not proceed.

"Tut, tut, well, my dear yound lady, mumbled the embarrassed editor, who clung to the title of more than twenty years' use, "well, well, we all have our trials. And the Chronicle has a circulation; and your 'Answers to Correspondents,' eh? You've done more good than them, I'll wager you, than if you had written twenty novels in the last—let's see, how long it is—twenty-one years, eh?"

"Twenty-two years," corrected Miss Hart with some acidity. "And as for my 'Answers to Correspondents' they're mere bread and butter."

Mr. Beedy slouched on; he did not wish to discuss high art versus a comedy with the little woman whose finer touch with literature had been through the depised department which he so conscientiously conducted for the Chronicle—the department of patterns and recipes, of household hints and advice to young mothers. And Miss Hart, drying her eyes and consigning the dust of the Cycle's rejections to the bottom drawer of her desk, resumed her interrupted occupation of dispensing information."

"Flora M." wanted to know how to remove iron-rust, and Miss Hart patiently told her. "Anxious Mother" was instructed how to prevent her children from biting their fingernails. "Isabel Dear" besought advice as to the entertainment of an evening party, and Miss Hart, after due consultation with a volume entitled "Parlor Games and Pastimes," gave her the necessary information. Occasionally, as she sorted her queries and wrote her answers, the drab little subeditor of the Chronicle wiped away a tear. Once in a while she leaned her chin in her palm and sighed over the dream that would never come true—the dream of "influencing her kind."

Eventually she came to the end of her pile of letters. There remained only the questions of "Boscobelle" and "Mrs. X. Y. Z." for consideration. "Boscobelle" was distraught about her new home, a century-old colonial house. How should she redecorate the dining room? With Adam-patterned paper and a gold-and-oak sideboard, curtains of fish net, wall racks for plates, a rubber plant and a rug of "filling?" Or should she leave things much as they were?

The other correspondent's problems were even more serious.

My husband and me don't get along together. I've lived with him 25 years, and since the last year or two he ain't ever given me a loving word, excepting when one of our children died. He ain't a bad husband; he don't drink, and he don't gad around. But he don't ever show me an affection, and I couldn't tell you when I have had a new dress to my name. All our children is dead or married now, and I could go and live with my eldest daughter, Susie. It seems kind of hard to leave him alone on the farm, but he won't let me have a horse for buggy-driving, and he wouldn't go even to camp meeting this year, and I am tired of living so lonesome. Please advise me what to do and oblige, yours truly, Mrs. X. Y. Z.

Miss Hart's eyes sparkled with the lust of battle. One of the disillusions of her late youth, one to which she clung with vehement constancy, was the worthlessness of man. She herself had found man false, and no future experience could correct the antagonistic philosophy which she adopted when she emerged from the first bitterness of her own unhappiness. She advised Mrs. X. Y. Z. vigorously, although in somewhat guarded language; for the Chronicle, as former experience had taught her, was averse to circulating in the community as a homewrecker. This was her answer;

No woman is justified in bearing a situation so distasteful. No one can say that the old situation has not been fairly tried. In new surroundings, such as you suggest, you will doubtless find mind and heart expanding. All the joyousness native to you will return. You have done your whole duty by the old state; success to you in the new.

With less enthusiasm she considered "Boscobelle's" dining room difficulties, and counseled that seeker after decorative wisdom thus:

By no means make the change you suggest. It is almost desecration to think of it. The old has a reverence and charm of its own, and you would soon regret the introduction of tawdry novelty into your scheme of life. Rearrange if you will; introduce a few features of modern brightness into the house; but do not, in a misguided fit of weariness, change the character of your home.

She put the appropriate marks for the printer's instruction upon her copy. She sighed again over the old, vain dream of "influencing her kind," and she went to her lonely home.

II.

It was two months later that Miss Hart found among the impersonal mail which came to the correspondents' corner of the Chronicle a long, rambling, personal letter.

I acted on your advice, and how much I have to thank you for! I gave up all thought of going to Susie's. I put flowers on the dining-room table and opened the parlor on week days. By and by I had a talk with Xenias—that's my husband—and he was awful surprised to hear how I had been feeling. And I've got a buggy and horse of my own, and Xenias and I both hope that you will come to help us celebrate our silver wedding anniversary the thirteenth of next month.

Yours truly,

MRS. XENIAS Y. ZIMMERMAN.

Miss Hart frowned, puzzled for a while. Then she consulted the files of the Chronicle. She found that she had made a strange mistake. The emphatic advice meant for "Boscobelle," of the dining room, had been absent-mindedly assigned to the unhappy wife.

Miss Hart drummed the page with her fingers. She frowned and sighed.

"That dining room," she said, "must be a sight! But maybe Boscobelle likes it as much as Mrs. Xenias likes her readjusted existence. Mr. Beedy," she called out to the managing editor, "can you spare me the thirteenth of next month? I want a day off—to test the influence of the correspondents' corner!"

House-Cleaning Hints.

GILT FRAMES.—Wipe these gently with a damp sponge which has been wrung out in oil of turpentine or spirits of wine. If great dust is not taken the frames will chip, leave them to dry.

Wall Paper.—Remove all loose dirt with a soft brush, then rub with thick pieces of stale bread, working from the top downward in a circular fashion. Another splendid method is to rub the walls down with flour mixed to a dry paste with water. The result is astonishing.

Brass Fittings.—To render your galvanized baths perfectly sanitary, burn a couple of newspapers or a handful of straw in them every time it is emptied. Let the bath be quite cold, and it will remove all grease and damp.

Sewing Machines.—Flood the working parts of these with paraffin oil. This will dissolve and dislodge all clogged oil dust, dirt, etc., which can be wiped away with an old duster. Clear the oil holes with a crochet hook. Polish up the woodwork with furniture polish.

Picture Paintings.—Peel a potato and halve it. Rub over the painting with the flat surface of the potato. Each time the moisture from the potato is exhausted, cut a fresh surface and continue. Sponge afterwards with clean tepid water and allow to dry.

Flower Vases.—Flower vases which have become discolored can be cleaned by half filling them with water, taking some small pieces of paper, rolling them up to the size of peas, putting them in the vases and shaking well.

A French Polish.—The following is a splendid furniture polish and most economical: Two parts of methylated spirits, two parts of vinegar, one part of linseed oil. Use a pad of linen and work in circular sweeps with light pressure. Polish with a soft duster.

Oak Floors.—Oak floors should be polished once a week. First sweep off all dust and wipe thoroughly clean with a duster. Apply a polish made of two ounces of beeswax and one ounce of hard yellow soap; add enough turpentine to cover. Allow this to stand by the side of the stove until dissolved, stirring now and again. This must be rubbed in well and the floor then polished.

Insurance and Assurance.

IN its new scheme for the simplification of life insurance the postoffice has bowed to popular phraseology, as well as popular needs. For the postoffice uses the word "insurance"—as we all do—where "assurance" is really meant. What is the difference between insurance and assurance? An expert explained it. Fire, shipwreck, accident, burglary, mumps or any disease are eventualities, and you can consequently insure against them. But death is a certainty against which no company will insure you. But you secure the assurance that a definite sum of money will be paid on its occurrence.—London Chronic'

Death of the Water Giant

Sandman Story of Two Savage Men and a Little Boy Who Conquered Them.

The Forest Giant took up a rock which he threw out at the object he saw bobbing on the water—far out.

Brave Little Louis Wins Bag of Gold From Governor

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

ONCE upon a time there lived two giants, who were very wicked. They lived on the banks of a big river, and when anything displeased them, and sometimes when there was no good reason, one of these giants would rush into the water and splash and swim about, making the waves high and flooding all the country around for miles.

He was called the water giant and his brother the forest giant, because he pulled up the trees and rocks and hurled them over the country, and what was not destroyed by his brother, the water giant, he destroyed.

At last the people could bear it no longer and the Governor of the country offered a big bag of gold as a reword to the one who would rid the country of these bad brothers.

On the outskirts of the town near this river lived a poor widow and her son, Louis. Their farm had been destroyed by these wicked giants, and poor Louis was at his wits' end to know what to do to keep his mother, who was old, from starving.

"Go to another country, my son," said his mother; "I am old and cannot live long. Leave me here—someone will give me shelter; but you are young and should go out in the world and make your fortune."

But Louis would not go. "You are worth more to me," he told his mother, "than all the riches in the world."

About this time the crier was going through the country yelling the Governor's offer, and Louis stopped him.

"I will try to win the reward," said Louis; "give me two days, and if I do not succeed let someone else try, but let no one come near the place where these giants live until the two days are up."

His mother begged him not to go, but Louis told his mother they would starve if they did not have money, and after a while his mother gave him her blessing and told him to go.

When Louis came to the place where the giants lived he hid behind a tree and watched what they did for awhile.

Louis could sing and whistle as sweetly as a bird, and after awhile he began whistling and walked toward where the brothers were sitting on the ground.

They jumped up and came toward Louis, looking very fierce, but when they saw he did not stop whistling they did not touch him.

When he stopped they asked him to whistle again, and before long they were so charmed with his whistling that they fell asleep.

Louis waited until they were both sound asleep, and then he awakened the water giant and asked him if he could swim.

"I can swim faster and farther than anyone in the town where I live," said Louis.

"I will race you," said the water giant, eager to show how much faster he could swim than Louis could.

Of course, the giant swam away from Louis, and in a few minutes he was far out on the water.

Louis then hurried back to land and awakened the forest giant.

"I wonder which of us is the best marksman," he said. "I think I can hit that object floating on the water. Let me see if you can."

The forest giant began to laugh as he saw Louis pick up a stone, and he took a rock which he threw out at the object he saw bobbing on the water far out.

Down went the stone with a splash, and down went the object he had hit. It was the head of the river giant, and it did not appear again.

"You won," said Louis, "but I wonder if you can pull up a tree; that is something I cannot do."

Eager to show his strength, the giant took hold of the tree, but to his surprise he could not stir the tree. He tried again, and then he flew into a rage, calling out that his brother was dead and his strength was gone.

He flew at Louis and would have struck him if Louis had not run. The giant ran, too, but his strength was gone, he could not run, his foot caught in a bush, and he fell to the ground with such force that the country shook for miles around.

Louis stopped running and looked back. The giant was on the ground and did not move, so Louis hurried to the town and called the Governor and all the townspeople to come with him.

They found the giant dead, and when Louis told them the water giant was drowned, the Governor gave him the bag of gold.

"You have won it," the Governor said, "for the water giant must be dead or the strength of the forest giant would never have left him. They were twins and one could do nothing without the other. An old witch who was present when they were born gave them their power, but if one died before the other the remaining one lost his magic strength."

Answers to readers' inquiries from the Post-Dispatch expert on conventional conduct.

By BETTY VINCENT.

"White Fibs."

BETTY VINCENT

A COMMON fault with young persons, particularly young girls, is the habit of telling petty lies. This is morally wrong, of course, and it is also extremely foolish. In nine cases out of 10 the small falsehood doesn't deceive the person to whom it is told, and only succeeds in putting the teller in a bad light.

A lack of complete trust will destroy the most perfect friendship or love affair. And it is difficult for a man to feel that he can trust a girl in big things when he knows that she tells him little lies. If the cases are reversed the girl finds it hard to have faith in a male prevaricator. So it's best to avoid even white fibs.

Does He Love Her?

Dorothy E. writes: I am 18 years of age and have been going with a young man three years my senior for three months. He seems to care a great deal for me and I enjoy myself while in his company; but he seems to be getting very serious and always talks of matrimony. Although he has never openly proposed to me, he has told me of his love, and indicates in many ways that he intends to make me his wife. Now I like this young man very much and consider him a true friend, but I think I am too young to get married at 18, but I am at a loss to know what to tell him, as he has told me time and again that if he was turned down by the only girl he ever really loved and would care to marry, he would leave the country.

Miss Vicent, do you think that a fellow could really love a girl in such a short time? And do you think that a fellow is settled at that age? Is a boy too young to marry at the age of 21, or a girl at 18?

You can well afford to wait. Time may answer your questions better than I. It is quite possible he has found in you the one he really loves, but he should not tell you so without proposing marriage at the same time.

Don't Pursue Him.

Dorothy writes: I am in love with a boy that does not seem to care for me, although he calls on me once in awhile. I love him very dearly. How could I win his affections?

There is nothing to do, as it is never advisable for a girl to take the initiative.

"M. G." writes: "I am 19 years old and not bad looking, but when I go to dances no one pays attention to me. How can I attract young men?"

The only advice I can give you is to be your simple, natural self. If you do this you should make friends among both sexes.

Red writes: "I am a young man 21 years old and am in love with a dear, sweet girl, one year my junior. Although I dearly love her and often tell her so, she acts friendly and that is all. Shall I try to win her love or shall I try to forget her? Please don't tell me to try to forget her, because my heart would be torn to shreds were I to do so."

Sometimes it takes a long time to win a woman's love. Remember dear, sweet girls like to be courted a great deal. It is the one way a girl has to find out the strength of her sweetheart's love. Keep up your courage. See how model a suitor you can be. Maybe in time she will appreciate your earnestness.

"C. R." writes: "I am to be married in a few months. After the ceremony I wish to have photographs taken of my future wife and myself. It is proper for both of us to be in one picture, or should we be taken separately?"

It's all a matter of personal taste, although I think individual pictures are the more customary nowadays.

"B. B." writes: "A young man whom I have known for some time has told me that he loves me. When I asked him how many other girls he had told the same thing he said 'two.' Should I allow him to pay me attentions?"

His honesty certainly speaks in his favor, and I think you should give him a chance.

The Question of Calls.

Very Persistent writes: I am deeply in love with a girl and I think she loves me. How many times do you think I ought to call on her in one week?

It depends on her wishes and convenience. You might call once a week and if she wishes to entertain you more frequently you will not be slow to learn of it.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

HELEN ROWLAND by HELEN ROWLAND

MARRIAGE is neither all tragedy nor all comedy, but just a mixture of both, with a dash of farce, a soupcon of melodrama, and a seasoning of continuous vaudeville.

A man always looks at a woman through either the right or the wrong end of a telescope, and thus always sees her as a divinity or a devil—never as a human being.

It is a terrible shock to a bride to see the man who vowed he loved "her only," in all the world, show a healthy, vital interest in a broiled steak and baked potatoes, when he might be looking into her eyes.

There never was a man so small and insignificant that he couldn't call a 200 pound woman "Little One" with a perfectly straight face.

It is better for a woman to believe everything her husband says and go on forever being deceived than to believe nothing he says and go on forever being tortured with suspicion.

So confident is a man of his own brilliancy that he will not hesitate to marry a fool, and then expect his son to be a genius.

Business Girl's Motto: Better marry and be a poor man's slave than stay single and be a rich man's stenographer.

Domestic Dialogues

Who'd Be a Buyer?

Scene: The Thompson flat at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Thompson greets her home-coming lord and meal-pass.

MRS. T.: Hello, dear! What's the matter? Are you sick?

Mr. T. (heartily): Sick? Not so's you could notice it. I'm a bit early. Came direct from the station. Been to meet Grant, buyer for Smith, Jones & Smith of St. Paul. Got wind of his coming and there I was, William on the spot. Four of my competitors there to meet him too. Regular cut-throat game!

Mrs. T.: Who's got his trade now?

Mr. T.: We all have a little slice, but each of us wants all. Only natural. Well, they're not going to squeeze me out of it. His business'd be worth a couple of thousand net profit to me annually.

Mrs. T. (Anxiously): Why, Gustave, you look real feverish and excited! Don't worry yourself all up. Don't you think you'd better take a drop of valerian or something?

Mr. T. (peeling off his coat): Valerian! Why, there's nothing the matter with me. The battle of competition has fired my blood. You mustn't mind if I foam at the mouth or snort, you know.

Mrs. T. (fearfully): Maybe it's funny, Gustave, but I don't like you to talk like that. It sounds—er—er—demented.

Mr. T. (dousing his face with cold water): Now listen! Just you stop worrying about me and get your thinking cap on. I'm going to entertain that man while he's here, and it's going to be SOME noise. I want you to think up a program for at least one night. He's going to be here five days, and I suppose those other four pirates 'll want to get a shot at him, too. So I guess we'd better not count on more than one evening.

Mrs. T. (right in her glory): Well, we'll take him to dinner at Blinks', and then we'll take him to the theater, and after the theater to Junk's for supper, and then make a round of the dance places. That'd keep him going.

Mr. T. (doubtfully): Ye-eh! That might be all right. Gee! It'd cost some! About 15 for dinner, seven and a half for the theater, 10 for supper and a good 20 for wine in the dance places. More'n 50 plunks!

Mrs. T. (shrugging her shoulders): Well, you said yourself you wanted to make him sit up and take notice, didn't you? You can't be fightwaddy when you're playing big game, you know.

Mr. T. (meditating): Oh, it isn't that so much. But I think that each one of the other four will do the same thing. Anyone can take him to dinner and the theater. And anyone who has the cash can buy wine. I want to do something distinctive, something that'll make me stand out in his memory of the trip, so that he'll write to ME when he's ready to send in his next order.

Mrs. T. (thinking rapidly)—Um-m, I see. Well, then, let's do the Bohemian stunt. We'll take him to one of the French places and then to the Night Court and Chinatown and finish up with a chop suey feast.

Mr. T. (with hesitation)—Ye-eh. That might appeal to some people. But it's dangerous to experiment. You can't tell how it'd sit on him.

Mrs. T. (ever resourceful)—Well I tell you what'd be safe all right. We'll take him to a slow, very conservative hotel for dinner and then to an illustrated lecture.

Mr. T. (groaning)—Oh, gee! But I'd have to go too.

Mrs. T. (indignantly)—Of course you'd have to go, Gustave. The idea! If you can't suffer for one evening, for the sake of a big order, I'd like to know!

Mr. T. (slowly)—Now, you know, I've been thinking and I was wondering whether it would'nt be better not to do a darned thing to entertain him. Just call on him during business hours and take him out for a drink, maybe. Because the other four pikers'll be falling all over themselves; and he'll say they're blamed anxious to get his business. And then he'll think of me and see that I don't give a continental. And just for spite he'll give me the business. See?

Mrs. T. (after a long pause)—Yeh, that's fine, Gustave, but what if the four others came to the same conclusion, after much thought?

Mr. T. (irately)—Aw! Now we're right back where we started from!

It's a Cold Day When Only 3000 Fans See a Sunday Ball Game

MR. SHORT SPORT: Houroo Ben Zeen did not come "clean"

CARDS EXHAUSTED SUPPLY OF HITS IN SPRING SERIES

Hug's Men Have Gone Stale Since They Whipped the Browns in Pre-Season Clash.

GRINER'S ARM FRAPPED

Big Dan Forgot to Don Sweater and Took Cold in Sunday's Game.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Unless Henrico O'Day, provisional commander of the Cub army, salutes the Cardinal flag by 4:30 p. m. Monday, Gen. Malaria Huggins will commit an overt act of some kind or other.

Gen. Huggins demands an apology for the indignities offered the Cardinal colors Sunday afternoon, and he will go before President Britton and the Cardinal Cabinet Monday prepared to take drastic action.

Should Gen. Hug be denied the privilege of subjugating the Cubs with guns, he may shake up his own army and prepare for a protracted fight.

Gen. Hug enters a plea for war munitions before the fight goes any further. His tattered little army hasn't an ounce of shrapnel left, having exhausted its supply in the spring campaign against the Browns.

Where's THAT TIMELY HIT?

The Cardinals haven't made a timely hit, to use baseball lingo, in spite of the Mexican war situation, since the opening game against the Pirates April 14. Hug's men just now are punchless. In Sunday's soiree with the Cubs, they choked the hassocks in the seventh frame without a single demise, thanks to two bum decisions by Messrs. Orth and Byron.

Then Cruise lined straight to Zimmerman. Wingo came next, swinging for Snyder. Ivey forced Jack Miller at the plate. Here Hug surprised the frapped fans by sending Griner up to hit for Griner. Fortunately, Dan walked, forcing home a run. Archer, in attempting to pick Griner off first when Hug missed a bunt, made a wild throw, and Dolan scored, but the Little Manager then died on strikes, ending the rally. These two runs were an absolute presentation.

The Value of a Hit.

One sound wallop at any time during this rally might have broken up the game. However, there is not as much cause for complaint along these lines as there is to the way Dan Griner's arm was neglected. When Dan reached first, no sweater was sent out to warm his salaried whip. He shivered around the tow paths until he got chilled and in the next inning, after the Cubs, especially Bresnahan, had cleverly delayed matters by a foolish argument, Griner was beaten to a pulp by six hits, two of them doubles.

In contrast to the neglect of Griner's arm was the care taken of Cheney's whip. Once Big Larry got on the bases, Tom Needham called for a sweater, which was sewed onto Cheney's shoulders. At that, Cheney was touched up for a few hits, but nothing like the bombardment directed on Griner.

The Cards got seven hits altogether, two of them scratches. But while the battling was close, there wasn't the semblance of a safe slap emanating from the local stronghold. Butler, Wilson and Magee fell down hard when a hit would have sewed up the game.

Perhaps They're Stale.

It does appear that the Cards wasted all their hits in the spring series. They played bang-up ball against the Browns and came back with a pretty nifty game against the Pirates in the opening tilt, but since then, with the exception of Saturday, when a bevy of boots gave them the verdict over Pierce, they have played a sad game. Have they gone stale?

Lee Magee's arm didn't profit by the world's tour with Johnny McGraw. Lee has pulled some throws that were spiced with bone of late, while his aim seems bad to boot. Playing ball all winter is like missing a night's sleep and trying to work the next day. The old pep is gone; eh, bo?

JARRETT IS SECOND IN PEORIA TENPIN TOURNEY

PEORIA, Ill., April 20.—Bruce Jarrett of St. Louis fared the best of the Mound City tenpin men in the open tenpin tournament here Saturday and Sunday. Rolling in the singles, he totaled 624 pins, entitling him to second place. His games were 220, 201 and 203. One of the surprises was the showing of Dennis Jeremiah Sweeney, who, with 618, was third. The St. Louisans in the five-men and doubles fared poorly.

Carlson Picked to Finish First in Boston Race

Minneapolis Athlete Is Favorite in Field of 83 in Big Marathon.

BOSTON, April 20.—An overcast sky threatened showers for the 83 entrants in the eighteenth annual marathon race of the Boston Athletic Association today. The course, as in previous years, was from Ashland, 25 miles southwest of this city, to the association's clubhouse on Exeter street. The light air that was stirring was at the backs of the runners and the roads were dry and hard.

A quarter of a million spectators gathered along the route. The record for the course is 2h. 21m. 1-5s., made by Michael Ryan in 1912.

Fritz Carlson of Minneapolis, last year's winner, was the favorite today. Among his competitors were James Duffy of Hamilton, Ontario; Edward Fabre of Montreal, Joseph M. Lordan of Cambridge and Festus J. Madden of South Boston.

Martin Delaney After M. A. C. Polo Team for Chicago Championships

Martin Delaney, physical director of the Chicago Athletic Association, paid St. Louis a call Saturday in hope of interesting the M. A. C. officials in sending a water polo team to the A. A. U. championships, which will be staged in the C. A. A. tank April 29. Three teams already have entered from the C. A. A., Illinois A. C. and Northwestern U. Delaney wants the M. A. C. paddlers to make the fourth entry.

This will be the first tournament for the international game championship. The M. A. C. still claims the championship which it won before the roughhouse game of polo was put under the ban and the new "international" sport was adopted. However, nothing definite has been done to recruit the local team for the Chicago meet.

The winner of the title in Chicago will be in line to go to the Olympic Games in Berlin, 1916.

FORSTERS CAPTURE TWO PRIZES IN TENPIN MEET

The Forsters won the scratch and handicap prizes in the five-men division of the city tenpin championship tournament. The team rolled 2857 from scratch, for which each member will receive a gold medal. The handicap boosted the team's score to 2967, which was high in this division.

Annual Games of High Schools to Be Staged Early

Meet Usually Held May 31 Must Be Moved Up to Suit Central Team.

The newest obstacle facing the interscholastic officials is the date on which to hold the annual high school track and field meet, which has been a prep classic for the past five years. The meets have until this year been held on the 30th or 31st of May, just previous to the school vacation. However, as Central is to be dismissed May 15, the officials are at a loss to name a date that will be suitable to all. The track squads generally put in their most beneficial training during the last two weeks, and if the classic is moved up it is not improbable that the results will suffer. An agreement will be reached this week.

On a few days' notice, Jack Marsh, the Soldan star first baseman, was disqualified on a score of professionalism, and was not even as much as given a hearing. Students now have asked permission to plead their cases. If the disqualifications are increased the Interscholastic League may as well close up, as the strength has already been split during the past week.

Soldan's defeat at the hands of Principia Saturday almost put that nine out as a pennant contender in the prep league. Although it was known that the loss of Ruel, Chalfont and Marsh would hurt, it was not thought that the team would be reduced from a sure winner to a cellar candidate.

MAGNER TO HANDLE TEAM IN DRUGGISTS' LEAGUE

John Magner, the former Central High and C. B. C. baseball and football star, will have charge of the Roi Tana, the West End team in the Druggists' Baseball League. Manager Frank Chipman announces the following lineup: James Sweeney, rf.; "Red" Wayne, cf.; Milligan, lf.; Jessie Robinson, 3b.; Swift, ss.; Chipman, 2b.; Patterson, 1b.; John Magner, c.; Beck, Schwarz and Klein, p.

The Druggists' League will play Thursday games at Federal League or Sportsman's Park. Teams in the league represent the West End, North and South Sides, and a team of doctors and dentists.

BROWNS-SOX GAME OFF BECAUSE OF THE COLD

CHICAGO, April 20.—It was so cold here today that the third game of the series between the Browns and White Sox was postponed. The contest will be played when the Browns call here on the next trip.

RICKEY IS AWAY, BUT BROWNS WIN SUNDAY MATINEE

Carl Weilman Pitches Managerless Crew to 5—1 Victory Over White Sox.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 20.—The managerless Browns demonstrated for the first time this season that they can win a Sunday game. Even with Branch Rickey absent, they put the White Sox to rout yesterday, and did a neat job of it, too. Incidentally, it was the first defeat of the season for the clan of Callahan. The score was 5 to 1.

Carl Weilman, the tall southpaw, steered his mates through nine freezing rounds. He went along like a champion for eight rounds. In the ninth, after the St. Louisans had piled up a commanding lead, he grew a bit careless, passing a pair of hose, which, coupled with a wild heave, gave the Sox their lone marker.

Opposed to Weilman at the start was Eddie Cicotte, of knuckle ball fame. He heaved eigth innings, during which time all the Browns' runs were chalked up. Jasper, a recruit, hurled the ninth. Bert Shotton nicked a double off the rookie.

Leary's Single Helps.

The game was won and lost in the fourth round, when the managerless crew tallied a quartet of tallies. Austin opened this frame with a scratch hit to Cicotte. He had it beaten, but the pitcher insisted on having his little throw. He pegged past Chase, and Jim ran all the way to third.

A pass to Pratt was followed by Williams' roller to Lord. Harry had a double play before him, but Weaver dropped his throw. Austin then started for the plate, drawing a wild throw from Weaver, which let Jim score and Pratt and Williams move up.

Jack Leary then bobbed into prominence by hitting a single to right, the blow letting Pratt and Williams register. Walsh forced Leary, but Weaver, after taking Cicotte's throw, heaved wild to first, trying for the double, and Dee went to third. Crossin made it four runs by scoring Walsh with a triple.

Crossin Hits In Another.

Cicotte again was stung in the sixth, when the Brown's fifth run was tallied. Clarence paved the way with a single. He also pilfered and cantered home on Crossin's blow.

Leary, whose triple threatened trouble in Saturday's game, poled three of the Browns' nine hits. Crossin got two pokes, one a triple. It was dreadfully cold and rain fell during the latter stages of the game. At that, 10,000 fans turned out.

JOE TINKER'S CHIFEDS OPPOSE TERRIERS TODAY

The Chifeds of Chicago, under the direction of Joe Tinker, will make their inaugural appearance of the season against Miner Brown's team at Federal League Park, Monday afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock. The Chifeds arrived from Kansas City, where they broke even in a four-game series with George Stovall's Packers.

Tinker has among others on his club Rollie Zeider, Fred Beck, Art Wilson, Claude Hendrix and Ad Brennan. Hendrix or Brennan will pitch against Groom Monday.

Catcher McAllester Goes All the Way to Chicago to Learn He Is "Fired"

Catcher Bill McAllester of the Browns departs Monday to join the Rochester (International League) team, to which he has been released by Manager Rickey. McAllester has signed with John Ganzel's outfit but wasn't the most pleased individual in the world when told that he was to drop back. McAllester disliked the method Messrs. Hedges and Rickey used in informing him of his transfer.

McAllester had been one of the stay-at-homes. He was notified Friday to skip to Chicago immediately. Although a finger is split, McAllester thought he was wanted to catch because Catcher Agnew had been injured. When he arrived in the Windy City he was told he had been released.

Manager Ganzel was on hand and immediately signed Attorney Bill. He was told to return to St. Louis to pack up. McAllester was slow in rounding to form this spring or he might have been retained. His release leaves Manager Rickey these catchers: Sam Agnew, Frank Crossin, Jack Enzenroth and Joe Jenkins.

DIAMOND GLINTS

Joe Willis, ex-Cardinal, scored the winning run for the Indianapolis A. A. team Sunday in the ninth inning, against Columbus. Joe pitched indifferently, being found for 12 hits, but he managed to win, 5—4.

Toothpick John Titus made three home runs and a triple, not to mention two singles, out of eight times up in a double-header at Kansas City Sunday. Toothpick John plays left field for the Kaw City team. Pete Compton is one of his associates.

The Pirates swiped six bases on Catcher Clark of the Reds Sunday and walloped the proteges of Mr. Herzog, 9—3. Mike Mowrey contributed three hits and scored a run. Looks like first division!

The Boston Braves are off to a bum start. They have lost three straight games in the National League and were further disgraced Sunday by yielding to the Baltimore club, 3—2. Who said first division?

Umpire Kane helped to defeat the Chifeds in Kansas City Sunday, and incidentally established the fact that the outlaw umpires have some authority. He banished Third Baseman Zeider from the park for kicking on strikes and then sent Brennan, Jackson and Black to cover for making too much noise.

Murphy and Welsh Matched.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 20.—"Harlem Tommy" Murphy, who was defeated by Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion, last Friday night, has been matched for a 20-round bout here in June with Freddie Welsh, the British champion. The date will be fixed later.

Keupper Makes It Three Out of Four for Terriers Over Champs

HANK KEUPPER, the gigantic southpaw, should be a great help to Miner Brown in the latter's quest for a pennant for St. Louis. Pitching for the Terriers in the fourth and final game of the series against the Hoosiers of Indianapolis, Sunday, Keupper looked like the man to aid Groom, Crandall, Willett and Brown in the pitching department. He beat the Hoosiers, 9—2.

It was so cold that every one of the 3000 fans felt foolish for braving pneumonia. The same cold had considerable effect on Keupper's pitching. He grew wild at times and in all handed out 10 passes. Four of these came in one round and resulted in the two runs scored by the Hoosiers.

Falky's Pals Cross Him.

Fred Falkenberg, who won the opening game of the season for the Hoosiers, tried a come-back. Falky's pals threw him down cold. They not only were helpless before Keupper's benders, but insisted on kicking the ball all over the lot. Eight errors were turned by the Hoosiers.

Falky gave way to one Billiard after four rounds, during which six runs were scored. Billiard fared little better than his elongated predecessor.

Joe Mathes won a home for himself and also probably saved Keupper's bacon by making the fielding feature of the day in the fifth session. This was the inning in which Keupper turned philanthropist. He started by passing Esmond. Then Rausch went up for Falky and smacked a double against the lace curtains in right field. Kauff's best was a tap to Keupper and the runners hugged their bags.

Then Keupper handed a pass to Scheer. That packed the bags. Another ticket to Booe shoved Esmond over the pan. The third successive gift to Laporte forced Rausch over. Then Dolan, a hard hitter, shoved the ball towards second.

Mathes chased over, stuck down his meat-hand and grabbed the bulb. Without setting himself, he made the throw to Bridwell, covering second, forcing Laporte at the middle pillow. Bridwell's throw to Miller completed the double. It was quite a play.

Rariden's Finger Cracked.

Catcher Bill Rariden of the Hoosiers had a finger split in the third round when he shoved the digit in the path of a foul tip from Ward Miller's bat. Texter, an ex-Red, finished the game behind the pan.

Willis Johnson, the new business manager of the Terriers, was called to the plate before the game to receive a large bouquet from admiring friends. Willis doffed his iron hat, grabbed the geraniums and blushingly ducked under the stand.

Keupper's victory was the third successive registered by the Terriers over the Hoosiers. Three out of four from the 1913 pennant winners is doing more than tolerably well.

TWO LOCAL BOXING TITLES AT STAKE IN WEEK'S BOUTS

Benny McGovern and Harry Trendall Will Defend Honors in Ring.

By Harry S. Sharpe,

The boxing review for St. Louis the coming week will receive more than passing notice from the local fans, though very likely not much attention will be paid results outside of this city. This is because results of the main events will be of particular local importance to the men engaged, but will have little or no bearing upon their standing in the different weight divisions represented by them outside of this city.

Two local championships are at stake. At the Future City Athletic Club on next Tuesday night Benny McGovern, local featherweight champion, meets "Tickle" Sanders, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., but who has made his home in St. Louis for more than a year, and in that time has forged ahead until he is now recognized as McGovern's closest local rival for fistic honors in the featherweight class.

The bout between these two presents an interesting angle, inasmuch that certain comparisons of results of bouts in which the two have engaged during the past several months seem to indicate that Sanders has shown an improvement that McGovern has not kept pace with. For instance, McGovern outpointed Sanders in an 8-round bount on Sept. 23, 1913. Following this, on Jan. 6, Sanders fell an easy victim to Stanley Roberts, the bout being stopped in the fourth round to save Sanders from being knocked out. Then, on Feb. 10, McGovern won from Roberts on points in eight rounds.

Each Has Met Kirkwood.

So far, McGovern figures decidedly the best, but on March 12 McGovern boxed George Kirkwood at the South Broadway A. C., and the best he could do was to hold the South St. Louis boxer to a draw. Kirkwood then, on March 31, boxed Sanders at the Future City A. C. and was not only out-pointed but out-fought by Sanders for eight rounds, and it was thought that Kirkwood was better then than when he boxed McGovern.

The foregoing proves nothing definite, it is true, except that Sanders is better now than when he boxed McGovern seven months ago, and one reason for it is that Sanders since then has grown heavier and correspondingly stronger and the weight agreed upon, 124 pounds at 3 o'clock, in the coming bout probably will suit Sanders just as well as it will McGovern.

A thing that has pleased McGovern's friends of late is the fact that in some of his more recent bouts he has been a bit more aggressive than was his former wont, and in his bout with Joe Clarke a couple of weeks ago he hit harder than at any time in his career.

McGovern is extremely jealous of his reputation, while Sanders is exceedingly eager to put a dent in it. Both boys are training hard and a good bout is anticipated with the probability that neither will have an alibi to offer when declared the loser.

Trendall and Kelly Again.

On next Thursday night, at the National A. C. Harry Trendall and Leo Kelly meet in what will probably be the last match between these two. This bout involves the local lightweight championship, as that distinction has been accorded Trendall for several years past. Kelly has pushed him harder for this honor than anyone else. The two have been rivals for the past three years, with Trendall holding the edge.

The coming bout will be the fifth meeting between these two. On Sept. 1, 1911, they boxed a six-round draw at Edwardsville, Ill. All the following bouts were in St. Louis. On March 30, 1912, they boxed eight rounds before the Irish-American Club and Trendall was the winner. Dec. 5 of the same year they boxed eight rounds before the St. Louis A. C. and this resulted in a draw.

On May 28, 1913, they boxed eight rounds before the National A. C. and this proved to be the most exciting bout in which the two had engaged against each other. For the first three rounds Trendall ran up a wide margin on points and then, in the fourth round, he had Kelly in such distress that most of the spectators believed Kelly was doomed for a knockout. Kelly pulled through, however, and in the seventh round he flashed with such speed and strength that Trendall was forced to cover and clinch in order to save himself from a knockout.

Trendall Had Close Call.

It was the first time in all their bouts that Trendall had been made to look bad by Kelly, and many of the spectators thought the tide had finally turned in favor of the latter. Trendall's generalship pulled him out of a bad hole. Hard fighting had exhausted the strength of both and they battled it out on even terms in the eighth and last round. Taken as a whole, Trendall had a margin in a greater number of rounds and he was declared the winner.

Since his last match with Trendall, Kelly has believed he can beat the local champion, particularly as he believes himself better now by reason of experience gained since then in bouts with Stanley Yoakum, Freddie Welsh and Jack Britton.

Trendall and Kelly will meet at catchweights on next Thursday night, and this should suit both of them, with the probability of their entering the ring weighing about 136 to 138 pounds.

Commission to Prepare for War on Chicago Feds

Tinker's Jump Will Be Considered at Special Meeting in New York.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The National Commission will hold a special meeting this week to consider the legal complications that have arisen between organized baseball and the new Federal League. The exact date for the meeting will be decided by Gov. Tener, who is said to have many pressing questions to dispose of at Harrisburg.

It is probable that the commission will decide on some action against the Chicago Federals in the Tinker case. There is also the question of the famous Tinker deal with Brooklyn to come to final settlement.

Brooklyn feels that inasmuch as Tinker did not report to the Brooklyn club that it is not responsible to Cincinnati for the amount it promised to pay for him. It is expected that Brooklyn will be paid back any money by Cincinnati which is still duo in the deal.

Loss of Cy Falkenberg, Birmingham and Chapman Has Nap Team on Rocks

The Cleveland craft seems to be flying signals of distress, although cruising only a few short days in the A. L. seas. The loss of Cy Falkenberg, who flopped to the Feds; Shortstop Chapman, who suffered a broken ankle, and Manager Joe Birmingham, who has a lame back, has put the Naps off their stride.

They lost their sixth successive game Sunday in Detroit, 7—6, the Tigers scoring four runs in the last two innings. This was the fifth time this season that Cleveland has been beaten by a margin of one run.

WOMAN AND MAN IN A WALKING CONTEST

Mrs. Christina Schneider of 5850 Elmbank avenue will walk a race Tuesday night at New Club Hall, Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, against A. O. Raddatz, a German pedestrian. He will attempt to walk six miles while Mrs. Schneider is stepping off five.

She claims the title of "woman champion heel-and-toe walker." In 1909 she walked from St. Louis to Syracuse, N. Y., a distance of 975 miles, in 42 days. During next month she plans a jaunt from Chicago to St. Louis, on which she will be accompanied by her husband, H. C. Schneider.

FEDS HAVE CALL IN ATTENDANCE AT TWO LOCAL PARKS

In Four-Game Conflicting Series Terriers Have Outdrawn the Cardinals.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

On a four-days' showing, the verdict goes to the Federal League in the attendance contest versus Organized Baseball. And that despite the fact that the weather has been against all forms of the national pastime.

The Feds got the break opening day when the inaugural attracted almost 18,000 fans to the new park at Laclede and Grand avenues. The Cardinals were forgotten by all but 1000 fans. That was a knockout in favor of the baby league. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, despite the cold on the last day, the Feds, according to impartial estimates, had a slight edge. The Feds drew about 3000 Sunday. There were hardly any more, if that many, at Robison Field.

The cold dealt a body blow to the new league Sunday, as it was predicted that another packed house, as on opening day, would have turned out for the contest. Despite the large gathering at the curtain-raiser, there were many fans, eager to see the Feds in action, who could not attend on the week day. These had planned to turn out Sunday, but stayed away because of the cold. They were sensible.

Will Conflict With Browns.

The Feds begin a three-game series with the Chifeds of Chicago, Monday. That will overlap the Browns' local inaugural with the Tigers and Ty Cobb Wednesday. It looks like a lucky break for Hedges. By Wednesday maybe the newness of the Feds will have worn off and Ty Cobb, if not the Browns, may attract the throng to Sportsman's Park.

After Wednesday, the Feds take a short jaunt into the country of the enemy. Miner Brown's team is off to a good start, and from present indications bids fair to hold its own with the rival Fed teams.

Organized baseball men conceded that the Feds would do well in the opening weeks of their campaign. There is much interest right now in the baby league because it is new. The real fight will come after this newness is worn off.

Feds Minus the Stars.

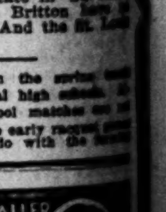

The Feds are operating minus stars of the Cobb, Johnson, Mathewson and Wagner variety. Their brand of baseball, in the eye of the average fan, is little different from that of organized baseball. That means that it is up to the fan to determine whether he will patronize the games in which the shining lights of the game perform, or cast his lot with the new league, depending on its evenly balanced teams for patronage.

Reports from other cities of the Fed circuit are that the magnates are well pleased with the attendance showing to date. In towns like Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Baltimore, Brooklyn and Kansas City, the gate receipts should continue if the teams make the proper showing. In those places there will be few clashes. It is in St. Louis and Chicago that the Feds have the big task.

On the crowds to date in St. Louis, Messrs. Hedges and Britton have no cause for rejoicing. And the St. Louis Feds keep winning.

This week will open the spring tennis tournaments in the local high schools. Although competitive school matches are not played until the fall, the early racquet games have a great deal to do with the making of the teams.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO LOWER STOCK PRICES

Shares Show Rather Wide Losses in the Late Market; London List Easy.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Evening Post, in its copyright financial review today, says:

"Just as the Stock Exchange closed Saturday, before the final ultimatum to Huerta was generally known, so today's market closed before the President had formally set forth the situation to Congress. No one was, therefore, able today to frame clear and unqualified judgment on the Mexican entanglement, any more than he was on Saturday.

"Prices on the Stock Exchange declined today, but they went down irregularly and spasmodically, and not with the sweeping and instantaneous general movement which traditionally accompanies actual news of war.

"It is difficult, however, to say what at any time has been the relation of the successive Mexican developments to the course of prices. The indisputable fact is that there has been no succession of excited breaks, clearly attributable to news with warlike indications, such as occurred in 1898 on the publication of the De Lome letter on Spain's protest against our Counsel-General at Cuba and on the blowing up of the Maine—all long before the declaration of war.

"Prices have indeed declined this year, during the troubled period of negotiations with Huerta, Villa and Carranza; but the decline was associated with quite other matters.

"It is always possible that a severe fall in prices, however caused, may operate in the end as if it had really been the 'discounting' of another and larger event, which actually happened. This must for the present remain mere conjecture; there was some feeling today that such a turn in the situation might occur, or such representations be made by the President, as would avert the immediate outbreak of hostilities.

"It is difficult to discover the actual sentiment of the financial community towards the Mexican situation in its new aspects; perhaps there has not been time enough for judgment on it to crystallize. The President's statement to Congress will largely determine this.

"No other news received any attention today in Wall street. A rumor that the old Austrian Emperor was near his end had its influence on the European stock exchanges; that is an event which has long been awaited, with wide conjecture as to its political bearings.

"An interesting development in the money market was the rise of ¼ per cent in rates for time loans. This was caused, not by any increased demand for such accommodation, but by the temporary withdrawal from the market of various banks which last week made considerable offerings.

"It was evident that the $28,000,000 loan increase reported last Saturday, together with the uncertainty over Mexico, had prompted some lenders to retire from the loan market for a time, or to put out on call what they had to lend.

"There was a broader inquiry for call money, and early in the day loans were made at 2¼ per cent, the market reacting later to 1¾.

Stocks Are Lower.

"The stock market opened ½ to ⅝ point lower for the more active shares, then recovered sharply, more than regaining all of the early losses. At the higher prices thus reached, the market became comparatively inactive between 11 and 1 o'clock; after which, the selling movement was resumed, and prices went to the lowest level of the day.

"This afternoon's weakness was accompanied by increased trading, and apparently by aggressive pressure from professional operators for the decline.

"None of the commercial paper brokers had a large volume of paper to offer, owing to the conservatism of manufacturers and merchants in putting out only such paper as they needed to cover present engagements.

"There was a decline of a half point in the bid price of United States Government 3 per cents on news from Mexico, while the 2 per cents of 1930 went off ⅛ point.

"There was a slight reaction in the price of new New York City 4¼ per cent bonds, which changed hands at 101⅞, for small lots. This, compared with an average price of 101.45 secured by the city at last Wednesday's sale, and 102.10, the price at which they were offered to the public."

Foreign Markets Off.

PARIS, April 20.—Unfavorable Mexican reports caused weakness on the Bourse today. Rentes 86 francs 75 centimes. Exchange on London 20 francs 15½ centimes. Private discount 2¾ per cent.

BERLIN, April 20.—The Bourse was weak today owing to the Mexican situation and the illness of Emperor Francis Joseph. Exchange on London 20 marks 45½ pfennigs. Money 2¾. Private discount rate 2⅛.

National Bank of Commerce stock was active and fractionally lower in the early local stock trading Monday, on sales at $125. The issue had that figure bid as the session closed, with offers at $125.37½. Mississippi Valley Trust at $280 was the only other seller. Other bank stocks were steady on the quotations recorded.

United Railways preferred stock had $78.62½ bid and was offered at $39, and the 4s were quoted at $69.50 to $70. The common issue was neglected.

The miscellaneous list was unchanged on the quotations established. Bonds were steady.

St. Louis Money Market.

There is practically nothing new to say about the money market in this section. With rates down to the lowest level in years, and borrowers anxiously scanning the horizon for a possible change, it is little wonder that the market generally is so dead. Rates are absolutely without change. One local commercial paper firm reported that it had placed a large block of six-month commercial bills in the East at 3¾ per cent. Demand funds are without change, either in price or other features.

COTTON MARKET DIPS, THEN SCORES GAINS

NEW YORK, April 20.—The cotton market was unsettled early today, with the trade evidently nervous over the situation in Mexico. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points. There was considerable liquidation, however, and active months soon sold 2 or 3 net lower. At this level the market steadied and prices rallied, with active months selling about 3 to 5 points net higher before the end of the first hour.

LIVESTOCK.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., April 20.—Comparative receipts table:

	Today.	Week Ago.	Year Ago.
Cattle	3,800	2,100	2,600
Hogs	10,500	10,500	9,000
Sheep	2,800	2,100	2,000
Horses and mules	1,500	1,300	1,500

NATIVE CATTLE—Today's receipts in this division totaled 3500 head, a right liberal offering for this time of year which is too late for fed stock and too early for grassers. Market was slow with buyers trying to bear down on prices. Latter ranged from steady to a dime lower. Tennessee steers sold up to $8.35.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—The southern offering was a slim one, totaling around 300 head. This was less than the trade had looked for and below the needs of killers who turned their attention to the native division. Market here close to steady.

HOGS—With a moderate supply on sale, the market was active and prices on a 5c higher basis. Best hogs topped the market at $8.85, while the bulk of the good kinds sold at $8.70@8.80. Shippers and city butchers paid $8.75 and up for the good hogs weighing 180 lbs and over, while the mixed and plain grades went to the packers at $8.50@8.70, and the rough throwouts, $8.25@8.40; best grade of lights under 165 lbs sold at $8.40@8.70; fair grades, $8.10@8.35; best pigs under 125 lbs, $8.10@8.40; medium grades, $7.40@8, and the fair kinds, $6.75@7.35. The close was a little weak.

SHEEP—With a fair supply on sale, the market was steady. Best lambs sold at $8.25@8.50; mutton sheep, $6.25@6.50; choppers and good stockers, $4@4.50, and fat bucks, $5.50@5.75.

HORSES AND MULES—There was a good trade in all types of animals this morning. Eastern and Southern section took liberal supplies.

There was little change to the mule trade today and not much life was being displayed. Big mules found best sales.

Hog Prices Easier.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Overflow shipments from the Milwaukee market pulled down prices today in the hog market here. Chicago packers were apparently in no position to relieve the situation. There was only a weak demand for the big supply of cattle. Buyers virtually refused to look at plain offerings. Most of the sheep and lambs were of good quality and found a ready outlet.

Uncertainty as to the ultimate influence of Mexican events on wheat futures made shorts nervous in the early market Monday, and prices rose a sharp fraction in the early trading.

The trade ignored easy Liverpool cables and fairly favorable crop conditions, though temperatures were unseasonably low over the winter wheat belt.

Corn futures were firm to higher early, but quickly developed selling pressure, and prices averaged sharply lower on the distant options, with the May delivery about steady.

The Chicago bear crowd still is on top of the market, and is using Argentine competition as a lever to lower prices.

Oats opened firm, and then lost their advance in sympathy with corn.

In the last hour of trading, violent liquidation of corn by tired longs sent the price down nearly 2c a bushel. Final prices were near the low level of the day.

Easy American cables on Saturday and brilliant weather in the United Kingdom stimulated moderate realizing in Liverpool at the opening, and values were ¼d to ⅜d lower. Following the opening there was a further decline of ⅛d. Private advices received are to the effect that the American outlook is highly favorable, with winter offers liberal. During the morning there was some tendency by shorts to cover, and prices advanced ¼d on the smallness of Canadian shipments and an improved inquiry for Australian steamers and light world's shipments.

Weakness in America on Saturday stimulated further profit taking in corn, and prices declined ¼d with world's shipments larger. Later shorts covered on decreasing stocks, and the undertone was steady.

Total world's wheat shipments last week were 9,792,000 bu, previous week 11,664,000, last year 14,544,000. Corn—Last week, 5,603,000 bu; previous week, 4,072,000; last year, 3,181,000.

Minneapolis wheat receipts were 301 cars, against 215 last week and 337 last year. Duluth, 25, against 32 and 27. Winnipeg, 243, against 596 and 291. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 500,000 bu for two days.

Local wheat receipts were 75,400 bu, or 400 sacks, 50 cars local, 12 through; last year, 135,600 bu, or 67 cars local, 46 through. Corn receipts, 45,140 bu, or 296 sacks, 34 cars local, 3 through; last year, 226,250 bu, or 900 sacks, 157 cars local, 38 through. Oats receipts, 102,000 bu, or 43 cars local, 17 through; last year, 117,-309 bu, or 45 cars local, 24 through.

Liverpool wheat closed ¼d higher; corn, ⅛@¼d higher; Berlin wheat, ⅜c higher; Budapest, ⅞c up, and Antwerp unchanged.

The domestic visible supply of wheat decreased 1,557,000 bu for the week; corn, 2,032,000 bu; oats, 2,613,000 bu.

The total visible shows:

Floating quantities wheat and flour this week, 46,712,000 bu; last week, 49,944,000; last year, 66,048,000. Corn—This week, 11,374,000; last week, 8,254,000; last year, 10,957,000. Last year wheat increased 2,008,000 bu and corn increased 586,000 bu.

B. W. Snow wired: "My advices show that considerable progress was made in wheat seeding last week in Saskatchewan and Alberta, where weather was dry and moderately warm. Central and Southern Manitoba had rain during the closing days of last week, and seeding will not be renewed until the middle of this week. While it is getting a trifle late, this district needed the rain, and the prospect is improved. The prospect appears favorable for an increase of 5 per cent or more in the Saskatchewan acreage, with some increase in the other provinces."

Total primary wheat receipts were 694,000 bu, against 793,000 last year; shipments, 298,000 bu, against 479,000 last year. Corn receipts, 439,000 bu, against 548,000 last year; shipments, 486,000 bu, against 992,000 last year. Oats receipts, 726,000 bu, against 793,000 last year; shipments, 697,000 bu.

Clearances: Wheat, 333,000 bu; corn, none; oats, 10,000; flour, 3000; wheat and flour, 369,000.

Chicago wheat receipts Saturday were 19 cars; corn, 22; oats, 108. Inspected Monday: Wheat, 45; corn, 36; oats, 142.

Cash wheat was firmer.

LOANS ON REAL ESTATE

I MAKE all kinds of real estate loans; no delay; cheapest rates in city; good loans at 5 per cent; small loans a specialty. See me first. FRANK L. DITTMEIER, 608 Chestnut st. (c15)

MONEY WANTED

ARE you a capitalist? Here is your chance! One of our clients wants a loan of $24,000 on business property in one of the most prominent business centers of South St. Louis. This property is worth $40,000 and it brings over 7 per cent of this sum after paying taxes. This means a net income of 12 per cent on the figure of $24,000. The real estate development in this locality and the entire neighborhood is coming to the front so rapidly that we are positive that this property will be worth $60,000 within 10 years from now. Besides the security offered under such a real estate loan its value also largely depends on the moral character of the owners and we know them intimately and know that this loan never will be foreclosed on account of default in payments and therefore our positive guarantee. This is a fine chance for a large estate. If interested address Tombridge Agency, 509 Chestnut st. (c1)

"Bill"

By PAUL WEST.

ALL I gotter say is, when it comes to bein' cagey th' soo ain't got nuttin' on that Boss o' mine!

Th' idea o' him knowin' all about big Ole, th' Swede elevator pilot, bein' a swell sout'paw an' sickin' McGraw onto him fer to be givin' him a tryout wid th' Gi'nts, an' me never smellin' nuttin' burnin' all th' time! Hones' I was that ashamed o' meself I could o' swallayed me face!

"What's on yer mind, annyhow, Bill?" says Mister Harry when I kinder sneaks in nex' day after.

"Aw, nuttin'," I says, "only if I ain't fit to be trusted wid th' secrets o' this j'int," I says, "after me bein' here goin' on a year an' never lifted as much as a 2-cent stamp," I says, "'tis time I knowed it," I says, gettin' sorer th' more I left meself go—"I s'pose," I says, "youse t'ought if youse put me onto big Ole I'd be sellin' him to th' Feds or th' Yanks or startin' a league o' me own or sumpin'," I says.

"Chaw yer food Bill," he says, "or youse'll have th' indygeshun," he says. "An' in th' matter o' big Ole, don't be blamin' me innercent brudder, annyhow," he says, "it bein' me an' not him which happined fer to reckernise in th' humble, disguise o' th' freight elevator man none udder than th' late star pitcher o' Squeerdunk University," he says, "which, though a small institution, give me own team th' hardes' battle ever I pitched," he says.

"Youse?" I says, handin' him a quick flash. "Uhuh!" re says, careless like, "in me collidge days I had th' honor o' occypyin' th' box fer two seasons, wid a reckid o' losin' only wan game." "Fer th' love o' heaven," I says, "Mister Harry ain't they sumpin I kin be doin' fer youse?"

"T'ank youse fer th' suddint bu'st o' respeck, Bill," he says, "but don't be wastin' it all onto me. I was some pitcher," he says, "but me brudder in his pammy days was th' king-pin o' th' collidges. Four years he pitched fer Princeton," he says, "wid an av'ridge o' t'irteen strikeouts per game, an' when he lef' he had to be guarded home be th' whole class fer to keep him from bein' kidnaped." "Be who?" I says. "All th' big clubs," he says—"McGraw and all. They wanted fer to sign him up quick." "An' why woulden he leave 'em?" I says.

"Th' law, Bill," he says. "Th' law called unto him an' he answered. Why," he says, "youse look like youse t'ought he made a mistake!"

"Well," I says, "a guy knows his own bus'ness, but if I had all that eddication I wouldent be wastin' it bein' a t'rer when good twirlers is so scarce," I says. "So Mister McGraw says," he says. "Fine man, him. Youse'll adore him, Bill," he says. "Cultivate him."

"Yeah?" I says, wonderin' if Mac had put him wise to th' break I'd made about knowin' him so good.

Jus' then th' Boss blows in, an' I grabs his hat an' hangs it up an' pulls out his chair an' hands him th' paper quick.

"What's th' matter, Bill?" he says. "Yer as attentive as a bridegroom," he says. "I was jus' remindin' Bill," says Mister Harry, "what a fine man an' a credick to yer perfession y'are," he says. "Diden' he never know it before?" says th' Boss. "No, sir, Boss," I says, "yer never told me nuttin' about yer reckid." "What reckid's this?" he says. "T'irteen strike-outs," I says, an' leavin' him kinder gagin' at th' way Mister Harry blowed up over this, I ducks.

I don't mind tellin' youse they coulden' 'a' pulled me offen th' gate from that time on, me bein' afraid McGraw would be comin' in an' me out to lunch or sumpin.

I jus' ducked back after a quick lunch th' nex' day when in he blows, an' if they was anny o' th' comforts o' home little Bill diden' hand that guy 'twas because he was jus' outen 'em.

"Tell Mister Hadley, please, me lad," he says when he could git his mout' open, "tell him"——

"Don't mention it, Mister McGraw," I says. "Annyt'ing youse says goes 'round this j'int. Te' Boss has a guy in wid him," I says, "but I'll go in an' t'run him out th' windey," I says. "I s'pose," I says, "yer gettin' all het up over th' openin' game," I says. "'Tis a cinch th' Giants will win. They'll be quite a crowd up there, I s'pose," I says, "alas!" I says, like that. "Alas!"

"Yeah," he says, "'twill be quite a little party. I hope," he says, "I see youse among them presents!" "I hope yer hope comes out," I says, "alas!" But he diden' fall, bein' t'icker 'n I t'ought. An' jus' then th' Boss comes out wid th' guy he's had inside an' grabs McGraw, an' in they goes. "Th' cheap skate!" I says to meself. "I hope th' Giants lose their socks!"

But in about two minnuts out they come, th' Boss an' Mister Harry an' McGraw.

"We're goin' ter lunch, Bill," he says, "an' if anny wan comes in tell 'em to wait." "A' right," I says, kinder sore like. Jus' then sumpin lands on me table. "By th' way, me lad," says McGraw, "Mister Hadley tells me yer a fine young feller. Come up to th' game!" "'Tis a pass fer th' gran' stan', fer th' opener!

An' leave me tell youse, if th' door hadsen' o' shet before I got me breat' I'd o' kissed him!

I put in th' time they was out framin' me excuse fer gettin' off th' day o' th' game, which was th' nex', in case th' Boss might be anny chanst try to be nailin' me, an' I had a good wan all right, all right.

Th' nex' day I come down all set fer to work me getaway about noon, me plan bein' fer to pull a sick, wid a couple o' groans an' a shiver or two. An' I dun it pretty good, too, I t'ought, kinder actin' woozy-like every time I went in th' privut office, but did them two guys notice me? They did not! I could o' died on their hands an' they wouldsen' o' turned their heads, th' way they was workin' all th' mornin', like they was tryin' to catch up wid sumpin. An' never a word about th' game, though heaven knows I spilled enough hints to be clutterin' th' floor!

But along about noon 'twas gettin' desp'rit, an' I was jus' makin' ready to be t'runnin' a fit or sumpin to be let off when th' Boss looks up at Mister Harry.

"Well," he says, "I t'ink that about clears th' decks fer th' day," he says. "Uhuh!" says Mister Harry. "I'm t'rough, too." "They's quite a number knockin' off early today," I says, kinder careless like. "Quite a number 'round dump I noticed." "Yeah?" th' Boss says. "Why's that?" "Why," I says, "I t'ink its th openin' game," I says "Game?" says th' Boss. "What game's dat?" "Th' Gi'nts," I says. "Gin'nts?" he says, dopey like. "Oh, to be sure," he says. "Baseball, are it not?" he says. "Baseball or sumpin like that" says Mister Harry. "I s'pose," he says, "they are quite a number of parties int'rested in them t'ings," he says. "Pers'nally," he says, "I might like to see such a contest meself if I had th' time," he says. "'Tis too bad, Bill," he says, lookin' at me, "to be tied up like th' t'ree av us is today, an' so much sport goin' on." "'Tis so," th' Boss says. "I was kinder hopin' I could go to th' game meself, but—by th' way," he says, feelin' o' his pockets, "diden' McGraw leave me a pass or two fer th' game? Now if I had 'em wid me possibly Bill might"——

"I got wan, Boss," I butts in. "Youse?" he says. "Uhuh!" I says, draggin' it. "McGraw gimme t pers'nal." "Fer heaven's sake!" he says. "An' youse never mentioned it to us." "It kinder slipped me mind me havin' it at all, Boss," I says. "But, annyhow, now I t'ink of it, an' seein's yer so kindly willin', if they ain't nuttin' more, an' th' crowd gettin' up there early"—— I says, fadin' to'rds th' door all th' time.

"Oh, but they are," says Mister Harry. "You remember," he says to th' Boss "me sayin' that in that little bit o' bus'ness I got uptown this afternoon I required th' attindunce o' this young man," he says, "in case youse diden' need 'im yerself," he says. "I ain't feelin' so good, Boss," I says, gettin' th' sick ready. "Well," says th' Boss, not payin' no 'ttention to me, "as fur as that goes, I t'ought mebbe I'd accomp'ny youse on that mission, it bein' so important, an' we could bot' have th' services o' th' young man." "But he have a pass to th' game," says Mister Harry. "Still," th' Boss says, "bus'ness first wid Bill, is his motto, I know," he says. "Yeah, Boss," I says, "sure. But 'twould be a shame havin' this pass go to waste."

"True," he says, "but dooty are ex'rubble," or sumpin like that, he says: "I tell youse, though. Instead o' leavin' that pass go to waste, s'pose—I know!" he says, grinnin' an' slappin' me on th' back. "Izzy Katz!" he says. "Fine!" says Mister Harry. "Poor little Izzy prob'ly ain't got wan. Run on down an' find him, Bill, an' give him th' ticket."

An' they shoves me out. Well I was faint, an' I dunno how I got down them stairs, till all of a suddint I finds meself near Izzy's office. An' then I come to. Give that simp me pass, an' me work all th' afternoon? Not me! If that was th' kind o' Boss I had, that settles it! I ducks fer th' tellygraff desk downstairs an' borries a sheet o' paper an' an envelops an' here's th' note I writ an' sent up to th' Boss:

"Deer Boss & Mister Harry.

"Acksep me ressignashun. 'Twas a good job, but thy's udders, an' they's only wan openin' game. If youse need a boy fer to work fer youse this afternoon on th' job youse was talkin' about take Izzy Katz. Give my regards to Ethel. Me fer th' game!

"Yourn trooly,
"BILL.

"Your ex-offis boy."

An' I ducks fer the game!

Was they a mob? Oh, no, not a tall, not a tall! Only about six million; but I went t'rough 'em like a search warrunt, an' when th' Gi'nts, wid McGraw himself leadin' 'em, blows out in their new soots I'm that lad in th' front row o' th' gran'stand that let out th' yell that scared two ginks offen Coogan's Bluff an' made th' whole bunch look my way! An' McGraw seen me! Yes-sir, he seen me, an' come right over wid his hand out. I leans over to be grabbin' it when all of a suddint some udder guy shoves his mitt past me an' beats me to it, an' McGraw says:

"Well Mr. Hadley, welcome to our little city!"

I turns 'round, an'—uhuh! James Hadley, Esquire, attorney & counsellor to th' law! An' Mister Harry! An' Mister Izzy Katz! An' I went t'ough th' floor!

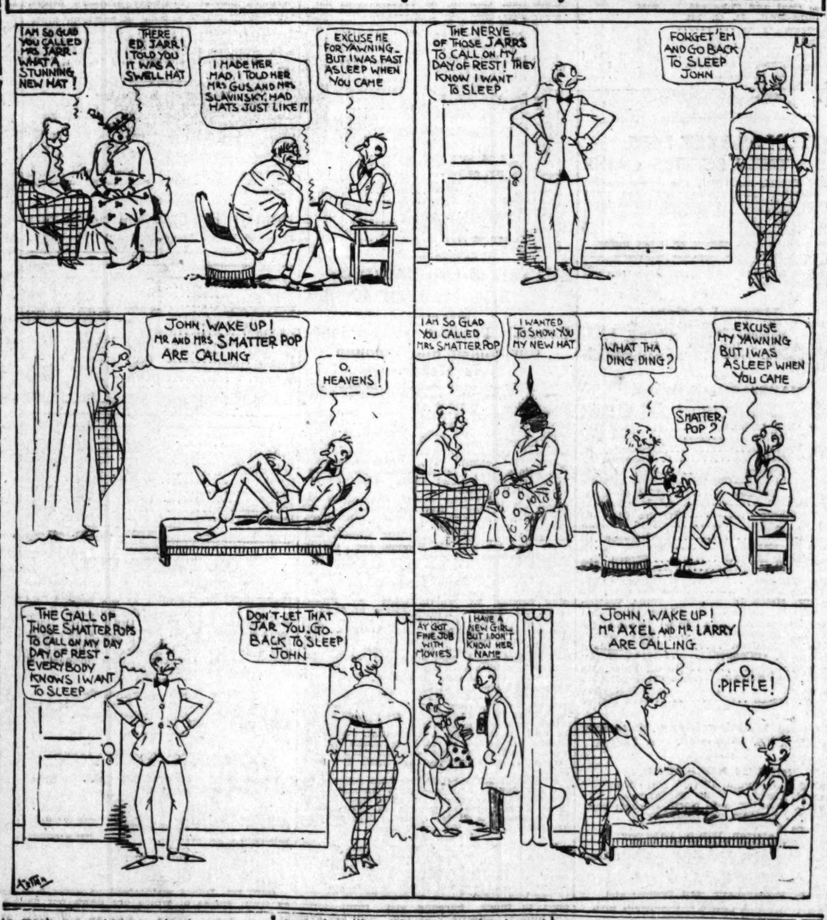

"Well, for pity's sake!" th' Boss says, "if it ain't Bill. So glad to see youse," he says. We waited some time. We t'ought, mebbe youse'd been kidnaped or sumpin," he says. "An' requirin' th' services o' some young lad wid us on th' important mission we was tellin' youse about, we took Mister Katz."

"That's right, Shrimp," says Izzy. "But how happined youse here?" "Why, that's plain," says Mister Harry. "Wid superhumin intelligence Bill guessed where our important mission would be leadin' us, an' simply come up ahead to make reservations. Only," he says, "why diden' youse send us word—a note or sumpin?"

"I—I—Boss, diden' youse get me note?" I says. "Note?" says th' Boss. "Come to t'ink of it, I did get sumpin lookin' like yer handwritin' on th' envylope, but bein' in a hurry, I diden' read it. Here it is now." "Give us it." I says. "What do it say?" he says. "Nuttin', nuttin' a tall," I says. An' jus' then th' guy hollers "Play ball," an' in th' excite-
